Midget Ball Is Work

SAN BRUNO FIREMEN

No Settlement Yet

By BOB PETERSON
Post-Times Writer

San Bruno firemen are continuing to seek strike sanction, although councilmen Monday night were of the belief the impasse had been settled.

Acting City Manager Leo Van Dusen Monday night said the settlement had been reached wherein the firemen agreed to retain a 60 hour-a-week work schedule, increases of 7.3 per cent for firemen and 9.3 per cent for captains, a survivors' benefit package and $2 toward the health insurance plan.

This morning, however, Bill Wilson, president of San Bruno firemen's local, said "We are not satisfied. The city made a settlement. We rejected it."

Wilson said the impasse which still exists centers on the hourly per week work schedule. The other items meet with his group's approval, he said.

3-2 Vote

According to Wilson, the firemen had sought a 58 hour-a-week schedule beginning January 1, 1971. It was defeated by a 3-2 vote, Mayor Neil Christal, Councilmen George Corey and Maurice Hamilton out-voting Councilman Ted Long and Dick Griffith.

"They settled for us," said Wilson. "Evidently we're supposed to like it. We had never stopped seeking strike sanction. The forms were received last night and they'll go to the San Mateo labor council today," he said.

Wilson indicated it would do no good to try and reach agreement with further discussion with city officials. "We tried that yesterday," he said.

Van Dusen could not be reached prior to press time for further comment on the apparent disagreement.

Part of last night's meeting centered around various work and salary schedule averages of; so-called benchmark cities. These are cities supposedly on a par with one another. They include the five North County cities.

According to these benchmark cities, the average work week on the Peninsula for firemen is 58.9 hours.

Councilman Long had offered a motion to go for the 58 hour week as of January, 1971. The motion was seconded by Councilman Griffith, who indicated the firemen had "come down a lot" from original proposals. The motion, however, was defeated by the majority.

Firemen had earlier indicated they would not be in attendance at the meeting. However, once they appeared and made their pitch to the councilmen, the city's resolution of procedure put the outcome in the hands of the councilmen.

Therefore, under the city's rules, an agreement was reached, though obviously everyone is not happy about the outcome.

Meanwhile the city's policemen ratified an earlier tentative agreement that also gives a 7.2 and 9.3 per cent raise, to officers and sergeants, respectively. The top in each position goes to $955 a month and $1,098 a month.

San Bruno Council Faces Troubles With Cable TV

More problems came to light Wednesday night on San Bruno's city-owned cable television venture — like how to make up a $30,000 capital outlay being lost because installation will take a year to complete.

Present plan calls for borrowing from the city's general fund reserves account.

Once councilmen were informed by Acting City Mgr. Leo Van Dusen that projected revenues were being lost they began a quick budget chopping of the cable television account.

Eliminated were most of the operating expenses of the system, including $12,000 for program origination, all estimated cash receipts for the year, plus clerical salaries associated with the operation.

Added to the account was the relocation of a fire alarm system, estimated at $5,000 and the cost of tree trimming estimated at $14,000.

Van Dusen said he has contacted a firm, however, that indicated they would put three men to work for $20 an hour. He said it would take approximately a month to trim in the Rollingwood area, estimated total cost being $3,000. Van Dusen said he assumed Crestmoor would be about the same, and told the councilmen two other firms "won't even look at Rollingwood and Crestmoor" for tree trimming.

Van Dusen suggested that two firemen who work with fire alarm systems could undergo a minimum of training and be used by the city on an hourly basis to handle the fire alarm installation. Budgeted to do this was a maintenance technician at $7,500.

Also discussed, but dropped at this stage was an original promotional proposal by the city to obtain subscribers by offering free installation if the resident would sign up within a month.

Cost of the hookup was quoted at $25, and councilmen looked with relish at what revenue this could generate.

Van Dusen also told the councilmen he is negotiating with the contractor, Jerrold Electronics, to install this first phase of the system in three separate parcels.

According to Van Dusen, this would aid the city by allowing those sections to be hooked up to generate revenue for the city. And it would be beneficial for the contractor to agree to the proposal because it would allow him to receive payment on completion of each section rather than waiting for one payment at the end.

The hookups, according to Van Dusen, would be first in the Monte Verde, Rollingwood and Crestmoor area north of San Bruno Avenue.

Second to receive hookup would be the remainder of the Crestmoor area as far as Junipero Serra, and thirdly, that section from Junipero Serra to El Camino.

Those areas not included are Portola Highlands, Pacific Heights, and the section east of El Camino.

This bit of information, and a comment the service would never go east of San Mateo Avenue, prompted some in the audience to question whether those people living east of El Camino ever could expect to be served by the cable system.

Van Dusen said there never was any intention the service wouldn't be offered to every resident of the city who desired it. He said, however, installation in other sections would be done upon completion of phase one and subsequent regaining of revenues for another contract.

"In no way is everyone going to be connected at once," said Van Dusen. "It never was intended that all of San Bruno would be covered in the first contract."

Four Injured In Colma Car Crash

Four persons were injured in Colma last night when a car being chased by a hit-run victim crashed head-on with another auto.

The episode started at 10:05 p.m. at El Camino Real and East Market Street in Daly City when a car driven by Pamela Carroll, 24, of Daly City, was allegedly struck from the rear by a sedan driven by Galen D. Page, 22, of 4 Cragmont Court, Pacifica.

Mrs. Carroll said the other car backed up and sped off south on El Camino Real. She chased after it in her car.

The chase led to Collins Avenue in Coma where, according to Highway Patrolmen John C. Hoffman and Paul M. Whitmore, Page's sedan skidded out of control on a curve, crossed the center line and collided head-on with a small foreign car being driven by Dr. Ronald Lee Rinck, 25-year-old South San Francisco chiropractor.

The small car was knocked 30 feet backward, the officers said, and Page's sedan continued on and struck a parked car.

Mrs. Carroll said she was close behind but was around the curve and did not actually see the crash.

Dr. Rinck, Page and two passengers in the Page auto were taken to Mary's Help Hospital. The officers reported that Page suffered cuts and abrasions of the head and face. Dr. Rinck sustained lacerations of the right hand and face as well as chest injuries. Eugene William Pointer, 14, of 543 Heathcliff Drive, Pacifica, suffered a fractured jaw and facial lacerations, and Raelene Starr Funzi, 14, of 406 Eighty-eighth Street, Daly City, was treated for face cuts.

Daly City police and Highway Patrol investigators had the accidents under review today to determine what, if any, charges will be filed against Page.

COUNCIL CHASTISED

Westborough Roadwork Under Fire By Residents

The county road department came under fire Monday night by irate citizens attending a South San Francisco Council meeting. City councilmen were chastised as well.

Major charges came from Mrs. Jack Ortner, of 32 Escanyo Drive. She said the county has failed to live up to its agreement with the city regarding acquisition of right-of-way and construction of the Westborough Boulevard extension. Councilmen were cited by her for their failure to protect the resident from the county's supposed inequities.

Several other residents followed Mrs. Ortner's lead, saying they have lost valued trees, shrubbery and general landscape features of their property without any previous notification or reparation.

The complaints prompted the councilmen to instruct Lou Goss, director of public works, to immediately notify the county of the situation, and inform that body that unless relief to the residents is forthcoming, the city will be forced to entertain a cease and desist order on the construction.

Mrs. Ornter initially read parts of a letter she had received from County Engineer Don Wilson, dated Sept. 29, 1969. In it, it was stated, "The contract specifications shall include provisions limiting the hours of work to normal working hours, reasonably controlling dust, noise and other disruptions."

In response to this statement, Mrs. Ornter proceeded to explain that the shower in her home has a continual cake of mud in it. She said that when she comes home to prepare dinner, cleans with a damp rag then wrings the rag out, a cake of mud settles on the bottom of the sink.

Goss saidd he has on several occasions contacted both the resident engineer and the county engineer to complain of the dirt problem. "I ask that they enforce the controlling of the dirt. They say they are, and still there is dirt," said Goss.

Mrs. Ornter went on to say that her back yard "is leveled," and not one agreement was made or sought by the county on payment for loss of the trees.

"I realize the trees would be chopped away as a result of eminent domain proceedings," said Mrs. Ortner. "But there were no negotiations whatsoever. we were once told we could have a say in what trees we would like to have saved. None of those (promises) have been done by the county.

"You (councilmen) got what you wanted (the road) for the city. Now it's time you went to bat for the homeowners and get them what they deserve," said Mrs. Ortner.

"There's no question the property owner has a right to damages," said City Atty. John Noonan. "But I'm going to have to spend some time with the agreement (between city and county)."

Mrs. Ortner promptly produced a transmittal sheet from the county that spelled out some of the special provisions from the specifications for the extension from Junipero Serra Boulevard to Colma Creek.

Underlined in red, apparently by the county, were sections relating to proper days and time of work and non-work periods, and a reference to watering for dust control.

To this section, Ms. Orner said residents were seriously considering turning on their garden hoses overnight to keep the dust down, and possibly make the area so wet the contractors would find working conditions equal to the rainy season.

A Handcuff For Mass Arrests

Latest Police Weapon

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Several months ago law enforcement agencies in the county turned to the electronics field for an answer to the mass arrest dilemma plaguing many departments as a result of protests of one sort or another.

Actually, a policeman visiting an electronics display quite by accident stumbled across a foot long strip of re-enforced plastic with a lock snap on the end that he thought would make an excellent handcuff.

The plastic strip is widely used by utility companies to secure power lines together and once used cannot be used again.

The anonymous discover decided if they could be used to hold thick cables together the strip could also be used to hold wrists together — far cheaper.

As a matter of fact the price of the plastic strip was so cheap (four cents each) compared to the cost of standard issue metal cuffs ($18) that a policeman could stuff a dozen or so into his back pocket without breaking his wallet.

There were other advantages also, police quickly learned.

For one thing, the four cent "temporary" cuffs are expendable, whereas the metal cuffs are not.

If an officer loses, misplaces or breaks his issued handcuffs he must immediately buy another set.

Cost and weight of the metal cuffs limit officers to carrying only one set.

Sergeant Edward Guzman, in commenting on the plastic cuffs, noted some complaints had been received about the circulation of blood being cutoff in an arrested person's hands if the strips were left on too long.

"This could also happen in the metal handcuffs if they are improperly placed on a person," Guzman said.

Guzman cited a recent incident at the Cow Palace where he was in the midst of a fracas.

The officer said he was able to secure one man and continue to work without giving up his own metal handcuffs. If necessary the officer still was equipped with several more of the "temporary" handcuffs and one set of metal cuffs.

Other officers have found the inexpensive plastic strips handy during mass protests where arrests are made and persons arrested are turned over to the agency responsible for the community — such as in Berkeley.

In the past, officers would spend several hours trying to track down their own handcuffs at the local station or wind up paying for a lost pair.

And on other occasions the arests would continue, but the cuffs would run out.

Not anymore!

Warning On Acid Bottles

Warnings went up and down the coast Sunday for authorities to be on the lookout for bottles of highly corrosive sulphuric acid that apparently fell off a ship at sea.

Six cartons of the dangerous liquid were found by Beverly Smith, manager of a Daly City riding stable, as she rode her horse along the ocean front near Thornton Beach.

The acid was contained in glass jars inside the cartons, each with a warning symbol attached to the outside.

Other areas had not reported sighting any of the acid jars washed up along the beaches.

Challenge Drainage District

Suit Filed In Superior Court

Formation of the South Canal Street Storm Drainage Assessment District in South San Francisco is being challenged in a lawsuit filed in Superior Court yesterday by four property owners.

The owners, Anthony Sorich, Jay Quetrisk, Olympian Oil Company and Arthur Haskins, contend in the suit that the city "acted unreasonably and beyond its authorization" when it overruled a 70 per cent protest against the district. Noting that law only permits overriding "where it is deemed . . . to be necessary for the inhabitation or use of the property benefitted," the lawsuit asserts that (1) the proceedings were not necessary for inhabitation, (2) plaintiffs' property will not be benefitted by the district, (3) the project is not feasible from an engineering standpoint, and (4) the lands will not be able to carry the burden of the proposed assessment.

Filed by attorney Thomas I. Bocci, the suit declares that the lawsuit is based on an "insufficient and inadequate" engineering report and that the district fails to include all of the land that either contributes to or suffers from the drainage problem.

The suit asks the court to order a halt to the proceedings and to award the plaintiffs costs, estimated at $20,000 for legal and engineering fees and soils studies.

Coast Auto Crash Claims One Life

A Carson City, Nevada youth was fatally injured late Saturday night when the car he was a passenger in went out of control on a Pacifica road and flipped over, pinning him beneath the wreckage.

Five persons, including firemen, police and passersby lifted the overturned car off the crushed body of 19-year-old Michael Hayden in an all out effort to free him. However the victim died some three hours later at Mary's Help Hospital from his injuries.

The driver, Philip J. Burdick, of 148 Juanita Avenue, Pacifica suffered a fractured left arm, lacerations, possible contusions and bruises in the accident.

He was reported in satisfactory condition at Mary's Help Hospital.

Police were continuing their investigation of the accident and were unable Monday morning to determine exactly what caused the accident.

A spokesman said Burdick apparently lost control of his car while traveling south in the 800 block of Oceana Boulevard, left the roadway on a sharp curve and flipped over after clipping a huge boulder.

Emergency crews arriving at the scene said Burdick was stumbling around in the darkness when they arrived.

One firemen spotted a leg sticking out from under the crumbled vehicle and rescue work got underway to free the trapped Hayden.

S.S.F. Detective Seeks Termination

Police Detective Bill Peterson has decided to hang up his South San Francisco badge.

He has requested a deferred retirement to terminate his employment with the city, rather than a resignation. This move would indicate the possibility of plans with other law enforcement or civil service capacity.

The 35-year-old detective, however, stated in a letter of resignation that "I am not at liberty to divulge my future plans. I feel it is imperative that I accept a most challenging opportunity that has been presented me."

Peterson's departure will become effective July 29, with his last day at work being July 28. He has been a member of the South San Francisco force for nine years and eleven months. During this time he has distinguished himself as "a very good and conscientious policeman," according to veteran Capt. August Terango.

Prior to joining the South San Francisco police, Peterson had obtained three years of experience as an Air Police investigator at Hamilton Air Force Base, while he was in the service.

Strong on crime prevention, and especially involved in bad check investigations, he has served as past president of the California Check Investigators Association, northern division, and is presently state-wide treasurer of this organization.

"I'll probably have to give that up," said Peterson matter-of-factly, still refraining from disclosing his future plans, however.

"It has been a big decision. I know a lot of people and have been treated well by the department," he said.

Peterson, who holds an associates degree in criminology and a law degree, worked on several crime prevention programs within the South San Francisco department.

He introduced a check warning bulletin that went out to merchants weekly, set up guidlines for prevention of embezzlement of vehicles that has been picked up by car agencies, and established a burglary warning bulletin that has since been adopted by two insurance companies and another police agency.

Just this past January an article by Peterson titled "Crime Prevention at the Primary Level" appeared in the California Peace Officers Journal.

Rate Hike In San Bruno

Rates on San Bruno sewer rentals will be increased 35 cents, from $1 to $1.35, for the next fiscal year.

The rate increase is one of several budget alterations being made by councilmen in an effort to hold down the city's tax rate.

Increase was prompted by the fact the sewer ond payback fact the sewer bond payback The rate increase could cover this and put a reserve in the account for next year of more than $40,000, according to Acting City Manager Leo Van Dusen's report to the councilmen.

Van Dusen also has been instructed to research the cost involved in the city hiring an accountant or bookkeeper on a temporary basis to do spot checks on the city's business license revenues.

According to Mayor Neil Christal a number of merchants feel they are being unfairly treated as to business license fees paid the city. The unverified problem is that similar-type businesses do not pay similar fees.

Just who is splitting the vote? All 3 of my opponents are far out radicals. The conservative and moderate voters should have a choice simply because the people do not want a radical. Of 6,000 San Mateo County voters, who were given ample facts about the candidates and issues, 73% choose the conservative. As a matter of fact it is the 3 radicals who are splitting the remaining meager 27%.

McCloskey is considered by his own colleagues to be the most liberal representative of all. In fact they have suggested his censure for his Dovish views on Vietnam. A television producer told McCloskey that if his campaign material were shown that it would appear too radical and too anti-Nixon and he would lose the election.

Do not be fooled. McCloskey, who poses as a CONSERVATIONIST, is NOT A CONSERVATIVE.

S.S.F. School Certified Employes, Trustees In Pact

Agreement has been reached between trustees of the South San Francisco Unified School District and certified personnel of the district.

Under the agreement, teachers will receive increases in salary amounting to four per cent.

A maximum of $30 a month per employe for health and welfare benefits will be distributed as follows:

Each employe will receive $2 a month for a $5,000 district-paid life insurance program now in effect.

Approximately $11.32 a month per employe will go for a district composite rate premium for a district dental program for employes and dependents.

And approximately $15 a month per employe already in effect will be used to cover a choice of medical plans between Kaiser or Blue Cross protection.

The balance will be utilized to fully or partially satisfy premiums for the district's major medical health insurance after the premium rate for the dental program is established.

Up to 2.2 per cent further salary increase will be paid also, contingent on "fresh funds" from unrestricted state monies the district may receive.

Increase in certified longevity pay will go from $175 to $300 at the top step, plus four years, from $275 to $400 at the top step, plus nine years, and from $375 to $500 at the top step plus 14 years.

Increase in adult education teachers' pay will go from $6.36 to $6.75 an hour for the first year, from $6.89 to $7.25 an hour for the second year and from $7.42 to $7.75 an hour for the third year.

Home teachers' pay will move from $6.50 to $7 an hour. Driver training teachers' pay will increase the same amount.

An increase in substitute teachers' pay will go from $26 to $28 a day for short terms and from $29 to $31 a day for the long term.

Coaches will have their pay increased from $660 to $700 a month for Class 1, from $510 to $550 for Class 2, from $410 to $450 for Class 3, and from $310 to $350 for Class 4.

An increase in the Red Cross swim program pay will give a 50 cents an hour increase for the program director, the pool director, teacher and student instructors and the adult life guard.

Selection Of Bruno Rec Site

Bike Trails Emphasized

The San Bruno Highways Committee has selected a 2.7 acre parcel along San Bruno Avenue, at the proposed extension of Cherry Avenue, and bounded by intersecting freeways 280 and 380, as a future park site.

Plans are not for a conventional park, rather a maze of bike trails, with minimum playground area and possibly a couple of tennis courts. Beautification will be aided by the planting of 15-year-old trees.

The committee consists of councilman Ted Long, planning commissioner Leon Miller and Mrs. Myrtle Heath, representing the park commission. The committee was formed for the sole purpose of examining the possibility of developing otherwise unimproved fingers of land along freeway interchanges.

During a past meeting with division of highways representatives of the state, the committee learned the state had a policy of contributing $50,000 an acre development costs to promote these beautification projects. This would indicate upwards of $150,000 coming in for the 2.7 acre parcel.

The next move on the part of the city's committee is to begin contract negotiations with the division of highways, following state grading of the area and a field trip by the committee. These steps are some three to four months away.

For that matter the park development of the area is as much as two years away, or at least completion of the road construction.

One other site selected by the committee is beneath Freeway 380 at Huntington Avenue. This parcel will contain covered tennis courts, allowing year-round play.

Land Panel Talks Slated

At the request of San Bruno Councilman Ted Long, the Sound Abatement Center of San Francisco Airport has set August 7 as for discussing possible creation of an Airport Land Use Commission.

The commission would study and recommend use of land near airports to assure safety of air navigation and promotion of air commerce. It would include necessity for height restrictions on buildings near airports, establish public hearings on subdivisions near airports.

Long said his objective was to ultimately include in the committee's scope such airport-comunity related problems as jet noise.

The commission would be composed of elected officials and airport representatives, thus being responsive to both the airport and the community surrounding it.

Mt. Lion In Serramonte?

A large animal resembling a mountain lion was spotted by three persons — one an experienced hunter — in the Serramonte section of Daly City about 6:30 p.m. last Friday.

A police posse formed to track down the "cat" called off their search as fog blanketed the area less than an hour after their arrival in the Shipley Drive section of the community.

The area where the suspected lion was seen by the residents borders an undeveloped section of the city composed mainly of brushy canyons and open fields.

Although the posse, led by police captain John Walsh, found several sets of large animal tracks in the general area it could not be determined what caused them — a dog or the lion.

Mountain lions have been spotted throughout North San Mateo County over the years, according to police lieutenant Tom Culley.

"It may very well be a mountain lion," Culley said. "We (police) had reports of this nature several years ago concerning mountain lions in both this and the Crocker Hills areas."

There is sufficient cover and small game in he area to provide a lion with food and protection.

Police said three calls were received reporting a large cat, some four feet long and two feet tall, "sightseeing" near their homes.

Mountain lions are also called cougar, puma or panther.

New Approach On Jet Noise

South San Francisco City Atty. John Noonan Monday night shunned a class action suit involving the city as a means to combat jet noise.

Instead, he called for going through "proper state and federal agencies with duly documented means" for attacking the problem.

Frank Mammini, vibrant anti-jet noise councilman, said he would go along with Noonan's proposal — for two months.

"I completely disagree with what our city attorney says," commented Mammini. "If this is an alternative (to a law suit) way to expedite things, so be it." But I'll be back in two months and I'll want an answer (on success of the proposal)."

Mammini had earlier been instrumental in placing the onus on Noonan to come up with a more appropirate means of controlling jet noise when he gave the city attorney 30 days back in mid-June, with the alterntive of a class action suit.

At that time Noonan said he had "some reservations" about the city entering into a class action suit, but indicated he had no objections to individual suits by residents.

"The ideal method of controlling this problem is through regulation," said Noonan. "both the state and fedeal governments can regulate. I think we're (the city) on sound ground here."

"No one has gone through these agencies. They are public bodies open for petition and complaint. Why don't we show the way through a regulatory act?" asked Noonan.

He said he would present proposals first regarding immediate relief, then ultimate long-range solutions to the noie problem. Noonan said he would have the preliminary procedure before the state aeronautics people within a period of two months.

"This way we are asserting our legal rights in a forum that is appropriate," said Noonan.

Mammini, however, continues to contend that the only way to get satsifaction is by putting pressure on the airlines and the airport operator.

"They work (to ease the noise problem) when the heat's on," "when it's not they procrastinate. This is the reason for the suit."

Mammini referred to other cities entering into legal suits, specifically Inglewood, in Southern California next to Los Angeles International Airport.

"These suits have been won and are holding tough," said Mammini. "Once you start causing them financial pain, we'll be in a position to bargain."

Noonan maintained his position that the city's role is to regulate. But since city government cannot effectively regulate, as tested through the courts, the next best thing is to put pressure on the bodies that can regulate.

"The state and federal agencies have the legislative authority to regulate noise," said Noonan. "A law suit is not a consistent, nor persistent regulatory act. The law suit should be taken by the private citizen."

Mammini said, "We don't want relief ten years from now. We are being harassed right now. The only thing the airport will understand is pressures from the people and the cities."

Councilmen held up Mammini's proposed motion to allow expenditure of monies by Noonan to hire consultants to do noise-related research until Noonan has had an opportunity to estimate what funds will be needed.

Sign Permit Is Rejected In Pacifica

The Pacifica Planning Commission Monday upheld the objection of 40 residents to a use permit for an advertising sign for the Fairmont Shopping Center by denying the application.

The planners temporarily granted another sign permit application property owners okayed.

The Commission also approved an amendment to the Commercial Recreation District which will enable the coastside city to create new commercial recreation districts.

In voting to deny an applicatio for a second sign for the Fairmont Shopping Center on the west side of Skyline Drive between Andover and Imperial Drives, the Planning Commission overrode a representative of the merchants of the Fairmont Shopping Center, Dick Wilhelm.

"We're a new area, trying to get as much advertising—to get shopping to stay in Pacifica," Wilhelm said speaking for Henry Doelger, Builder Inc. "It's good for the tax base."

"Our point in wanting some of these signs is to divert some of the traffic for the new shopping center in Daly City — Serramonte," he said.

Mrs. Marjorie Russell, representing 40 irate residents of the Andover Drive area, noted that "We have no objection to (the first) sign on Hickey. But the one directly in back of us, we feel is an invasion of our privacy."

She added that "The sign is so huge that we don't feel you can see the shopping center. We think it blocks the shopping center."

A member of the Planning Commission noted the shopping center had been in existence 3½ years. "I drove by both sites recently," Commissioner Brad Pringle said. "The one refered to as site number one is rather attractive looking. Sign number two, I must agree with those who are against it, is a rather obnoxious sign. I don't see what good it does other than remind people they just passed the Fairmont Shopping Center."

Pringle also called the sign "dangerous" to children in the area because of the huge trenches around it.

In unanimously approving the Commercial Recreation District amendment, the Commission passed on to City Council something it has been considering for some time.

Purpose is to create a more uniform development to specifically guide development of recreation areas along the Coastal Area Plan.

The ammendments propose four special districts — from a Beach Boardwalk type to a "Beach Residential."

Burglary In San Bruno

Burglars some time this weekend struck the San Bruno residence of Lonnie L. Fontana and took $1,586 in cash and property.

Police said entrance to the home at 148 Georgia Avenue was gained by breaking a glass on a garage door. The door to the house, inside the garage, had been left unlocked, police said.

Taken was $275 in cash, sweaters valued at $250, a $400 stereo, a watch valued at $100, two rifles for a total value of $225, plus various other items.

Agreement On Bruno Contract

A 7.5 per cent salary increase, plus a $25,000 fringe benefit package to cover medical plans, has been agreed to by San Bruno Park School District trustees and certificated personnel negotiators.

The settlement, according to Superintendent George Lawry, is already part of the preliminary budget approved last week. August 3 is the date for the final budget hearing.

Six Vie For Pacifica School Board Post

HERBERT C. BRADFORD, 39-year-old contractor, lives in Fairmont with his wife and two children. He holds a commission of Lt. Commander in the Naval Reserve and is a graduate of DePaul University, Chicago, Ill., majoring in law.

Bradford says he wants "to give children basic skills in reading, writing and arithmetic so they can attend college and get the education they need for the future."

He will work for a standard grading system in all schools; have patriotism taught in the early years, and raise standards in reading and math.

Bradford says he's against drug traffic; buying new lands for schools instead of using land already owned by the district; busing children away from the schools nearest their homes; and having bond issues on special elections instead of general elections.

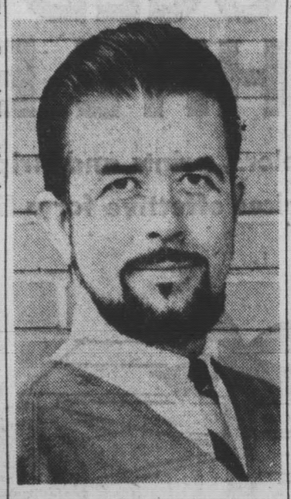
He is a member of Fairmont Subdivisions Improvement Association Safety Committee and Architectural Committee.

ALEX FRASER, 38, lives in Sharp Park with his wife and three children. He teaches English at Oceana High School. Fraser has a B.A. Degree from Kent University in Political Science with graduate studies in English at Kent and San Francisco State. He served in the Army for two years.

Fraser says "we need to find a way to make education as joyful and self-actuating in the classrooms as it is outside of school. We need to decide what our school systems are there for."

He will work for the restoration of 50-50 state-local financial support for the schools; a program of bilingual and bicultural education; raising reading comprehension skills to national norms by the 8th grade; looking into the causes of drug abuse; and convene a joint citizens' committee to define the goals of the total educational program in the area.

Fraser says he's against classrooms with more than 25 children; bussing children on an expediency instead of an educational basis; and negative learning situations that pressure students.



ALEX FRASER

An educator for 10 years, he is chairman, Jefferson High School negotiating council; chairman, sub-committee on attendance and drug abuse; president, Jefferson High School California Teacher Association; and a leader of the Sacramento March for school finances.

JACK WOLF, 39, is a wholesale distributor of publications who lives in Pacific Manor with his wife and two children. He received his bachelors degree from the University of Maryland in Military Science then served in the Air Force as a pilot. He has lived in Pacifica for seven years.

Wolf says "our children are our most valuable assets, and they should receive an education based on their own individual needs, not an education based solely on their school districts' assessed evaluation."

He will work for more money for the district from the state; report cards that are uniform and accurately reflects the child's status in class; a cost-accounting breakdown of the entire educational program; more use of volunteer teachers' aids; and encouraging parents to help educate their children.

Wolf says he's against looking at the education price tag first; the communication gap between the school board, the community and the teachers; busing children from school to school; continuing to use programs that have not produced results in basic skills; negative budget ideas.

He is a member, board of directors of the coastside preschool development corporation; board of directors statewide federated committee of school finance; school finance strategy committee; enrollment chairman, Pacifica Association of Girl Scouts; Pacific Manor P-TA, and Newspaper and Periodical Drivers Union Local 921.

ETHEL LEBONVILLE, 33, lives in Sharp Park with her husband Emory and their three children, who attend West Portal Lutheran School in San Francisco.

She is a parttime executive secretary of the Board of Realtors and a reporter for a Pacifica weekly newspaper. She earned an AA degree at City College of San Francisco, and has taken additional courses at University of California, and S.F. State.

Mrs. Lebonville says "our emphasis should be on academics and preparation for adult life in a changing world."

ETHEL LEBONVILLE

She will work for obtaining and keeping highly qualified and dedicated teachers; emphasizing basics, particularly reading in the primary grades; presenting all the facts to the community and seeking the involvement of parents, teachers and board members in decision making; continuity from school to school and from elementary to high school; sound business principals and meaningful policies to provide maximum education for the dollar spent.

Mrs. Lebonville says she's against too large class sizes; lack of uniformity in the grading systems.

She is involved in Original Boys Club Boosters, has worked with Boy Scouts, member of citizens advisory committee—Youth Service Bureau, member of Pacifica Republican Assembly, American Legion Auxiliary, PTA.

EDITH H. LIND, is a 36-year-old housewife who lives in Portola Heights with her husband Richard and one child. She attended the University of Minnesota, majoring in dietetics.

Mrs. Lind says "children should be given the basic tools of reading, writing and arithmetic with which they can build and continue to learn.

She will work for the extended day reading program; more volunteer teachers' aids to help with the reading programs; minimum busing and boundry changes; having parents, teachers and board members working closer together.

Mrs. Lind says she's against changing teachers and children around the schools each year; thinking that more money is the only answer to good education; overcrowded classrooms; and lack of discipline in the schools.

Chase Fails In Bid For Divergent Views

An effort of Trustee Charles E. Chase to have the school board of the Sequoia Union High School District adopt a policy statement that a wide diversity of views be represented on all district and local school committees failed for the second meeting in a row last week.

The board did agree to take up Chase's proposal at its next meeting on August 5, even though Trustee Helen S. Kerwin challenged Chase's motion on the grounds the district already has a policy that committees shall consist of a "broad representation of the community."

Chase proposed that the board of trustees "instruct the superintendent and all district personnel to ensure that all district committees and local school committees shall be composed of members of a wide diversity of views on the particular issue or subject under deliberation, discussion or consideration."

He said that trustees should "recognize that it is vitally important that all points of view be heard and expressed no matter how sacrosanct the issue or subject under discussion or consideration."

Chase amended his motion of a previous meeting to exclude the placement of lay personnel on professional committees, and agreed that the rule should not apply to elective committees such as teachers' negotiation committees.

Chase has been critical of a recent citizens' public information committee on desegregation on the grounds its members represented only one viewpoint.

"I would like to speak against the motion," Mrs. Kerwin asserted. She maintained it did not "differentiate" between advisory committees and "task forces," and that Superintendent Dr. George P. Chaffey could not insure a wide diversity on all committees because he could not "compel" members of all viewpoints to serve on a committee. She said that when Chaffey contacted 70 organizations about an equal opportunity commitee, only seven people showed up.

Jack Robertson, board chairman, argued that Chase's policy would require the district to appoint persons opposing bond issues on campaigns to promote passage of bonds.

"I think the diversity would help," Chase responded.

"I don't think you can ask people to go out and sell bonds they are opposed to," Mrs. Kerwin claimed.

Chase said the board could make exceptions to the rule after deliberations, but that he would like to have the direction to the administration "on the books."

"I'm in the minority now, but maybe next year I'll be on the majority," Chase asserted, saying he would like a charge to the administration despite the present complexion of the board.

"We need an interchange between persons at opposite poles," Chase maintained.

"Anyone who would have to administer this policy would be open

An effort by Chase to bring the policy statement to a vote failed by a three to two vote, and Robertson ruled that as a change of policy was involved the proposal should be put over until the next meeting.

Chase's motion that Robertson's ruling be overruled also failed by the same vote, with him and Trustee Philip V. Schneider in the minority.

Washington, D.C., Duty For Coast Guard Commander

Coast Guard Captain Harry A. Solberg, 301 Barneson Avenue, San Mateo, has been named Deputy Chief of Public and International Affairs at the Coast Guard's headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Captain Solberg has been commander of the Coast Guard Air Station at San Francisco International Airport for three years.

He was a flying commander, and participated in many of the 1500 search and rescue cases the Air Station conducted during his command. In this time, Coast Guardsmen from his station, saved over 200 lives, and rescued property amounting to millions of dollars worth.

In change-of-command ceremonies, Captain Solberg turned the station over to Commander J. D. Steinbacher who will serve as acting commanding officer until arrival of Captain P. A. Hogue from New Orleans.

During the ceremonies, officers and men of the Air Station were inspected by Captain Solberg for the last time, before he departed for Washington.

Six Vie For Pacifica School Board Post

She is on the executive board of homeowners association; community cultural coordinating committee; congress for community progress; volunteer teachers aid; chairman, volunteer cafeteria workers; P-TA board member; Campfire Girl group leader; and co-op nursery school chairman.

EDITH LIND

ANITA HEYMAN, is a 36-year-old housewife who lives in Fairmont with her husband Alan and their four children. She attended Lincoln High School in San Francisco and San Francisco State College, majoring in Social Welfare.

Mrs. Heyman says, "children should be taught to think and reason for themselves, to learn to be responsible people who can meet the challenge of tomorrow."

ANITA HEYMAN

She will work for the opportunity for each child to get a meaningful education; exerting pressure on the state to increase financial support; retaining competent teachers, and having the school board, staff and community working together to achieve goals.

Mrs. Heyman says she's against diversions between the school board and the community; the feeling that money is the only way to improve things in the school district; more cutting in school programs; and the large teacher turn-over.

She is a member of Laguna Salada classified personnel commission, Laguna Salada housing committee, school finance strategy committee, charter member Fairmont P-TA and Mothers March.

Girl, 6, Is D.C. Burglar

Five children — including a small girl — were arrested by Daly City police Sunday as they allegedly burglarized the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School on Santa Barbara Street.

Leader of the gang was believed to be an 11-year-old boy pupil of the school.

Police said the children ranged in age from six to eleven years old.

They entered the school about 1:30 p.m. after smashing through a window.

A resident of the neighborhood spotted the children entering the school building and called police.

'Cowboys' Arrested

Daly City policeman Bob Jordan was on routine patrol along Geneva Avenue Saturday night when he spotted two "cowboys" riding along on their mounts wearing holsters slung low and looking like they were spoiling for a duel.

Jordan, a pretty fast gunhand himself, didn't let the sight of the pistol packing papas stand in the way of doing his duty and he pulled the men over to the side of the road.

Instead of being "cowboys" the two men turned out to be sailors Larry Baker and Clark Carey stationed at Treasure Island Navy Base. They were out taking a late night ride on their motorcycles and packing guns — western style on their hips.

Vandalism In S.S.F. Reported

A vandalism report of the South San Francisco Unified School District for 1969-70 shows total glass breakage to cost $29,197. Theft came to $11,964; vandalism was $7,955; and fire, $21,070. One fire at Westborough Junior High School, prior to is acceptance by the district, was estimated at $15,000.

Two hundred and fifty athletes and their parents paid tribute to Larkin and ten other performers who were judged most valuable in the seventh, eight, and ninth grade sports at Westborough.

The awards were presented to: Football: seventh grade, Jeff York; eighth grade, Jeff Wilson; ninth grade, Mason Larkin. Baseball: eighth grade, Ben Baker. Soccer: eighth grade, Fred Tiblow; ninth grade, Perry Carrubba. Baseball: ninth grade, Ken Eckstein. Track: seventh grade, Mike Michelucci; eighth grade, Jeff Wilson; ninth grade, Tom Henkle.

No Driving On The Lawn

San Bruno City Attorney Joseph Galligan has been instructed to prepare a city ordinance to prohibit cars from driving on public lawns.

The direction to Galligan was inspired by a report from Police Chief Russell Cunningham.

The chief explained one of his officers researched the ordinances to find none existed to prevent cars from driving on city park lawns.

D.C. Resident In Campaign Against Naming Of School

By WILL THOMAS
Post City Editor

Daly City resident Ernest Bloom has urged trustees to change the name of the not-yet constructed William J. Savage School.

Bloom said most people do not know who Savage was, except by Bloom's "campaign to delete his name."

Savage was the Jefferson districts first superintendent. Trustees in office in November of 1966 selected his name as that by which the proposed intermediate school in the St. Francis Boulevard region would be known.

Bloom protested, "The children would be known as 'little Savages,'."

He further commented that Savage is not known to this generation, wasn't to his own, and probably not event o his father's.

Bloom called the naming a "campaign fullfilment" from original Daly City, whose students never would be attending the new school, if and when it is built.

After Bloom's attack on the name, Trustee William Schumacher proposed the proposed school's name be reviewed.

Original selection of the Savage name for the school was not nanimous. Trustees Thomas Noonan and Peter Galliano voted against it. George Perry, O. Wayne Douglas and Joseph Lewkowitz favored the name. Lewkowitz, who was absent durng discussions this week, is the only member of that board who still is a trustee.

Noonan and Galiano wanted the school named Junipero Serra.

Talk of affixing a name to the proposed facility for seventh and eighth graders began in March of 1966, when Noonan, then chairman of the board, urged a committee of 15 be named to "pass on suggestions submitted by school children."

The architect of the school, thought Trustee Douglas at the time, "might be persuaded to donate a $25 savings bond as a prize for the winning suggestions."

In June of that year a committee to select a name was chosen.

It was composed of District Superintendent Frank Greenwood, Trustee George Perry, then Daly City Mayor Al Polonsky, Postmaster Vince Murphy, the senior principal in the district and Marilyn Harris, then Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association representative.

The group was to screen a list of suggested names, eliminating not only such "proposals as 'Batman,' but those of living individuals" as well.

The school remains unbuilt, although the site has been prepared for two years, because the State Department of Education at that time could not see a pupil density sufficient to qualify the district for construction of additional classrooms.

Trustees have started to take another look at the site, in the light of current demands that Ben Franklin Intermediate School enrollment be reduced.

This week, trustees authorized the drafting of a formal resolution that would allow administrators to attempt to sell $1,448,000 over a redemption period of 20 years.

Superintendent Greenwood recommended a ten-year redemption period, which would have carried a tax of 22-25-cents per each $100 assessed valuation.

On the other hand, trustees feared lack of bidders.

Later he said, "Frankly, I don't think we're going to receive a bid either way."

The bonds were approved by voters previously.

had expressed a desire to spread out redemption — to get future taxpayers involved — over a longer period of time.

The selection of the 20-year period by trustees probably would mean a tax rate for that bond redemption of from 10 to 13-cents a hundred acco,rding to Greenwood.

Greenwood expressed pessimism with the longer period. He

Library Is Under Study

San Bruno's personnel board members are studying the possibility of making it a requirement that any new library personnel possess an accredited library school certificate. Also that a new position of police clerk be established with pay commensurate of that of an account clerk position, according to councilman Maurice Hamilton, liaison to the board.

Plans Are Firming Up For Bruno Paper Drive

Logistics of the scheduled July 25 San Bruno paper drive are fast firming up.

Mayor Neil Christal at the Monday night council meeting announced the city's scavenger company volunteered to pick up newspapers left in front of residences.

The mayor cautioned the papers be put in a cardboard box and not tied together. It also was requested no cardboard or magazines be inserted with newspapers, as only newsprint can be recycled.

In addition, several driveways and parking lots were made available as newspaper drop depots. Included are parking lots at St. Thomas Lutheran Church 250 Courtland Avenue; Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, 850 Glenview Drive; St. John's United Church of Christ, 480 North San Anselmo.

Driveways include those of John Adams, 952 Masson Avenue; Les Kelting, 2791 Crestmoor Drive; Mayor Neil Christal, 2260 Rosewood Drive; Councilman Dick Griffith, 135 Madison Avenue; and Jack Head, 199 Piedmont Avenue.

Boy Scout Troop 89 has volunteered to assist in gathering the newspapers from the neighborhood depots.

The purpose of the citywide paper drive is two-fold: aid in the recycling newspaper effort begun in San Francisco, and raise funds for non-profit organizations that participate in the drive. This drive is hoped to be the first of monthly drives.

Chamber of Commerce is coordinating the drive.

Trip To Washington, D.C. 'Fantastic Experience'

Bob Bellino called it a "fantastic experience."

Bellino is the fifth grade teacher at Los Cerritos School in South San Francisco who took his class on a field trip to Washington, D.C. shortly before school closed for summer vacation.

"I realized that it was going to be a neat adventure for the kids," Bellino confided, "but the way things turned out was way above my wildest expectations," he enthused.

Upon returning to their SSF classroom, the students were asked to pick from memory one thing they liked best (other than swimming) about the trip. Although most of the boys and girls found it difficult to give just one answer they voiced approval for: "The Washington Monument, the boat ride from Mt. Vernon, visiting the FBI, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Smithsonian Institute, meeting Ted Kennedy and sitting in Congressmen's seats."

The fifth graders didn't like: "Gnats, heat, coming home, the bathroom on the bus, sleeping on the bus, and they considered the White House tour too short."

Asked what they liked best, students checked the Marine Parade, the Smithsonian Institute. Niagara Falls, the Bethesda Fiesta at the Bellino family home.

The cook-out at Frank Bellino's residence in New York rated as much enthusiasm as the Marine Parade, Smithsonian Institute and Niagara Falls.

Boys and girls reported they could do without heavy thunderstorms and getting bus sick.

They approved staying with a host family but worried about "not knowing them at first" and finding the experience a "little scary."

When asked why they disliked staying with strangers, students responded with "They stare at you when you eat," "The little sister bugged me," and "They sass back their parents, I don't do that."

One male complaint was "I got stuck with a girl." The boys and girls thought being away from home provided the opportunity "to see more things" and "you don't get yelled at!" Those who admitted being a little homesick gave such reasons as "I didn't get to see my cats," "I miss my mom," and "I missed a hunting and fishing trip."

What was the consensus of opinion regarding another trip in the future?

All "Ayes."

Chairman Of Board Named

Trustees of the South San Francisco Unified School District have named Leo Paddreddii as chairman of the board for the next year. He succeeds Leo L. Eserini, who has been board chairman for the past four years.

Mrs. Lorraine Cooper was elected vice president, James Christensen, clerk, and Eserini as trustee representative.

Facelle Placemat Contest Announced By Food Stores

A unique and fun-filled contest in which contestants can create their own placemat designs on Facelle Royale paper towels was announced today by D. Scatena, manager of Westlake Foods in the Westlake Shopping Center, and William Boyce, manager of the Skyline Plaza Market.

Any artisitic technique may be used and the contest is open to everyone who stops at Westlake Foods or Skyline Plaza Market from now until August 15 and picks up an entry form at the "Facelle Royale Paint-A-Placemat Contest" display.

The creator of the most outstanding placemat, as judged by the design directors at International Paper Company's Creative Marketing Center in Burlingame, will enjoy a Holiday Airlines weekend for two at Lake Tahoe with deluxe hotel accommodations. The second prize is dinner for two at one of Nob Hill's finest restaurants and the third prize is a year's supply of Facelle Royale towels.

Daniel P. Howells, product manager-towels for Facelle Company, a division of International Paper Company, said the idea for the contest came out of the Facelle Consumer Institute which was held in San Francisco in June.

Thirty-three Bay Area women including three from Daly City, met with the company's product managers and discussed, among other things, new uses for paper products.

"Many of the women said they use paper towels as handy placemats," Howells explained, "so we thought they might enjoy creating their own designs and competing for some fun prizes."

Howells said there is a possibility that Facelle Company may use some of the winning designs on paper towels manufactured in the company's new $25 million plant in Oxnard, Calif.

According to Westlake Foods' Scatena and Skyline Plaza Market's Boyce, an attractive display stand has been set up near each store's paper products counter. It is equipped with a roll of Facelle Royale towels so people will not have to buy anything to enter the contest.

"We're also offering a special discount on Facelle Royale towels," they added, "for placemat artists who want to experiment a lot."

Survey In San Bruno

San Bruno residents are being asked for their opinions and reasons for their buying habits It is all part of a three-page questionnaire which was mailed this week to 2,000 random households in San Bruno by the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce.

The extensive survey was divided into six sections, including general community services and facilities, transportation, store services and facilities, advertising, shopping areas, and buying habits.

"This survey should help both the consumer and the merchant," Chamber Trade Analysis Chairman Jack Head said. "It is important that San Bruno residents who receive the questionnaire take the time to answer the questions. The main object is to inaugurate a program of improvement leading to better merchandising in our stores and improved community services to you — the customer."

A postpaid return envelope was included with the three page questionnaire, which contained a covering letter from Chamber President Donald Risso.

'Unusual' Pacifica Family Art Show

An unusual family show opened recently at Periwinkle Art Gallery , Pacifica. The Hons family, Robert, June and Emile are residents at 66 San Bruno. Hons studied at the University of California and San Francisco Academy of Art.

In the commercial art field for 25 years, Hons is presently employed at California art and freelances with his wife, June, under the name of Hons Graphics.

Hons uses watercolors with calligraphic line work to depict colorful cities and boats.

June Hons is a former student of the San Fancisco Academy of Art and University of the Pacific. Several of Mrs. Hons' portraits are exhibited in the gallery. Most of them are of children, and young people (including her son and one of his close associates) as she admits "some of her favorite friends are teenagers."

Working with pastels, Mrs. Hons captures the fresh quality of youthful faces. She has written and illustratded two childrens' books now being considered for publication. In addition the pastels and ink drawings, June writes the "Cruising Crestmoor" column for the san Bruno Herald.

The child conceived of two talented parents can be expected to break the mold in many ways. Emile Hons will resume his studies this Fall at Pepperdine College on an art scholarship.

He works well in all media — acrylics, ceramics and metal sculpture. Emile's sense of humor and artistry comes through strongly in his ceramic pieces. This show will run through August 2.

NELL NORTON
Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

How would you like to do a good deed for today? two good deeds, in fact. Good deed number one . . . check through your recipe files and see if you can find a recipe for old fashioned molasses cake. A loyal reader in San Bruno is searching for one.

Good deed number two . . . a recipe for banana cookies. I know I have one, for I remember making them, but it's lost, strayed or stolen away. So will you send me your favorite recipe for banana cookies?

In my search for recipes I went through many cook books. And though I didn't find the recipes I was looking for, I did find some interesting ones to try. This casserole is different and tasty, and gives a pound of ground beef a good stretch, for it serves 6 generously.

This recipe come from a cook book published by the Holy Angels Women's Guild and is just one of many wonderful recipes in their book.

ITALIAN SUPPER CASSEROLE
Part 1

1 pound ground beef
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 medium onion, sliced thin
1 cup red wine
3 cans tomato sauce
1 teaspoon Italian mixed seasonings
A dash garlic powder
1 tablespoon sugar
Salt and pepper to taste
Grated Parmesan cheese
(Bake 350 degree oven for 45 minutes)

In a large skillet heat the three tablespoons oil, add the sliced onion and pound of ground beef. Cook, stirring often, until meat is brown. Add the three cans tomato sauce, the cup red wine, one teaspoon mixed Italian seasonings, dash garlic powder, one tablespoon sugar and salt and pepper to taste. Cover and simmer for one hour. Stir occasionally.

Part 2

2 pounds zucchini (6 or 7)

Select zucchini of uniform size, so it will cook evenly. Wash the two pounds zucchini. Trim the ends and cook whole for 15 minutes. Cut lengthwise and arrange cut side up in an oiled baking dish (9x13 inches). Pour sauce and meat mixture over and bake in 350-degree oven for 45 minutes.

Serve with grated Parmesan cheese.

Serves 6.

If I said, "Think of a sandwich, what kind would come to mind?" Tuna? Cheese? Ham? If you asked this of one of the little people in your home, the answer would probably be, "Peanut butter and jelly."

Looking through a cookbook the sandwich section holds an infinite variety of ideas. From the plain and simple to the most elaborate.

A very fancy sandwich that is hearty and hot and suitable for a meal is this next offering.

CHICKEN DELMONICO SUPREME

6 slice toast
Sliced chicken
1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
½ cup grated sharp process cheese
¼ cup milk
6 slices crisp bacon
6 slices tomato

Arrange the six slices toast on a cookie sheet. Top with the sliced chicken.

In a saucepan, combine the can of cream of chicken soup, half cup grated cheese and fourth cup milk; stir until cheese melts.

Pour over the chicken, completely covering toast. Top with the crisp bacon, then tomato slices.

Broil until sauce bubbles and is lightly browned. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives if desired. Serve at once. Serves 6.

SINCE BAKING COOKIES is a great pleasure to me, and the results of my baking is a great pleasure to my family, testing cookie recipes is a joy. You'll find these cookies are a joy also.

FOUR-IN-ONE COOKIES

1 cup shortening, soft
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
(Bake 350-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes.)

In a large mixing bowl beat the one cup shortening, one cup each granulated and brown sugar, two eggs and half teaspoon vanilla.

Sift together the one and one-fourth cups flour, one teaspoon soda and half teaspoon salt. Add to creamed mixture; blend well. Stir in the three cups oats.

Shape into one-inch balls. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets about 2 inches apart. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes. Cook about 2 minutes and then remove cookies from cookie sheet.

FOR VARIETY, add one cup raisins, one cup semi-sweet chocolate bits or one cup flaked coconut with the oats. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

Louanne Heath's Datebook

Looking for a nice day long jaunt to the warmer climes?

One of our family's favorite rides is into the gold rsuh country southeast of the bay area. This particular ride is one that can be stretched or shortened as the day progresses and all the explorers need is a desire to polk about in the romantic settings of California's most adventuresome era and a high heat tolerance.

Leave the peninsula via the San Mateo bridge and go through Hayward, Pleasanton and on down highway 50 to Stockton where you will leave the main freeway and head southward on Highway 4.

THIS TRIP BECOMES HOT and dry after Stocketon and travelers invariably comment upon the heartiness of the men who not only lived but did hard manual labor in the mines and along the creek beds of this foothill country. We like to watch the highway signs for every little intersection offers us a selection of places to visit, each with a name that rings familiar to those who have a nodding acquaintance with history.Knights Ferry, Jamestown, Chinese Camp, Jenny Lind and San Andreas are just off the road to the right or the left a few miles. See them as your schedule allows but don't use up all your exploring hours for the best is still further down the roadway.

Wander about in Angels Camp and enjoy hearing about Mark Twain's famous story of the Jumping Frog Contest and learn how this enterprising community has turned that story into a reason for an annual occassion for pilgrimages to this sun baked mining town.

If you go to Murphys the passengers in your car may insist they have been to this tiny community before, but localities will delight in telling you the reason everything looks familiar is because this town has been used as a location for numerous western movies and television shows.

If you go to Murphys retrace your route on Highway 4 until you come to the junction at Vallecito and then turn south and watch for the entrance to Moaning Cave.

Moaning Cave ceased to moan long ago, when stairs were built to assist tourists descend into this underground wonderland, but that fact fails to lessen the total effect of this priely owned attraction.

The entrance to the cave is lacking in enticements. You may wonder if it is worth the fee to follow the guide through that narrow crack in the ground but just that breath of cool air wafting out is enough encourgement for most hot and tired travelers. Inside you will have to go down a narrow and steep staircase to the one large room open to visitors.

The trip is not long and even the reluctant feel at ease inside for the room is large and well lit so there is no feeling of confinement.

In the cave there are ancient bones, both human and animal, and a few artifacts. The guide will fill you in on the details of their discovery and what archeologists believe to be true about them.

But the most fascinating thing about the cave is the natural sculpture of the rocks an mineral deposits. In the cool interior the lights on the shapes can cause your imagination to run rampant and the whole effect is almost hypnotic. It is truely worth seeing, especially for those who have never ventured beneath the surface of the earth.

IT IS HARD TO FACE the heat and the sun ater the comfort of the Cave but you are now near Columbia and you want to have plenty of time to enjoy this remarkably restored remnant of the Gold Rush. There is something enjoyable for every member of the family at Columbia, touring old buildings, riding a stage coach, eating candy made from recipies popular more than 100 years ago, or looking at some of the modern arts and crafts on exhibit.

After we leave Columbia we continue south to Sonora so that we will be seeing new scenery on the return trip. We come back to the peninsula on highway 108 which takes us to Oakdale and to Salida where we join highway 99 north to Manteca. At Manteca it is nice to take the Banta cutoff and join highway 50 just east of Tracy.

I think you will have a pleasant ride and you are bound to return with greater respect for the shoe clerks, accountants and others who surged across this continent to work their souls out in that hot and unfreindly terrain.

Westside Teens Planning Dance

"The Feelin'" consists of eight pieces who, play jazz-rock sounds.

A nominal fee will be charged for the dance, limited to Westside Teen Club members only.

'Alice' Musical By D.C. Children

Under the direction of the Daly City Recreation Division, an original script of "Alice Through the Looking Glass" will be presented on August 13-14.

The musical will be presented in the Westmoor High School Little Theatre at 7:30 p.m.

Wedding Bells For Area Couples

Camilleri-Fassler

Friends and relatives of Mary Anne Camilleri of Millbrae and Robert Emil Fassler of Daly City recently gathered for the couple's wedding at St. Dunstans Catholic Church in Millbrae. The Rev. Donald J. Pyne officiated.

Mary Anne, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spiro Camilleri, was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore an Empire floor length gown of white silk illusion over taffeta. Her gown also was styled with a Venise lace bodice, a high scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls, Venise lace Victorian style sleeves and lace appliques on the skirt. She also wore a matching mantilla.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Rose Michelucci of San Bruno and bridesmaids were Susan Ryan of San Francisco, the bridegroom's cousin, and Theresa Phipps and Doris Azzopardi, both of San Bruno. The bridegroom's niece, Paula Davidson, of San Francisco, was flower girl.

All the attendants were similarly dressed in ice green crepe Empire gown with long full sleeves, braided belts and picture hats.

Don Michelucci of San Bruno was best man and ushers were Al Camilleri of Millbrae, the bride's brother, and Michael Ryan of San Francisco, the benedict's cousin, and Frank Catone of San Francisco. Peter Borg of San Francisco was ring bearer.

After a reception at the Knights of Columbus Club in San Mateo, the couple left for a honeymoon to Yosemite and Lake Tahoe. They will live in San Bruno.

Mary Anne is an alumna of Capuchino High School and her bridegroom was graduated from Balboa High School.

Petsche-Richter

The Zion Lutheran Church in San Francisco was the recent setting for the afternoon wedding of Linda Susan Petsche and Stephen Douglas Richter, both of San Bruno.

The Rev. Wilbur T. May of St. Thomas Lutheran Church in San Bruno officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Alfred Kurt Petsche and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stephen Richter.

When Linda approached the altar with her father, she was wearing a white organza A-line gown with full shirt sleeves and deep cuffs. Venise lace appliques detailed her bodice, sleeves and train.

The bride's sister, Janet Carol Petsche, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Kim Christine Kollmann, and Diana Marie Fernandezs, both of Millbrae, and Catherine Elaine Staab, of San Bruno.

All the attendants were gowned alike in long sleeved skirt dresses with white bodices and green chiffon skirts accented with green satin bow belts and buttons.

Paul Brian Richter was his brother's best man. Another brother, David Alan Richter, shared ushering duties with David Owen Hough of Davis, Phillip Lance Winder of San Bruno and Ronald Victor Ronconi of San Luis Obispo.

Special guests at a reception at Forest Lodge in San Francisco included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joseph Kuhner of South San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Kurt Petsche of San Bruno. Also present were the benedict's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Kothe of Stockton.

The couple was graduated from Capuchino High School and the College of San Mateo. Stephen, who also studied at San Francisco State, is in student training in technical illustration at CSM.

After honeymooning in Northern California and Oregon, they will live in San Bruno.

Conci-Stewart

Daly City is the first residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Stewart (Linda Angela Conci) who recently returned from a honeymoon tour of northern California and Oregon.

The couple exchanged vows at Holy Angels Church in Colma. Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Conci of Colma, hosted a reception at the Red Chimney Restaurant at Stonestown in San Francisco.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Linda wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace with an Empire bodice and elbow length sleeves ending in wide flared ruffles. Her Camelot headpiece was appliqued with matching lace and scalloped lace edged her chapel length train.

Paula Silici was the matron of honor and Arlene Conci, the bride's sister-in-law, shared duties with Teresa Schenone, the bride's cousin. They wore floor length gowns of white and yellow rosebud print with fitted bodices and slightly gathered skirts.

Paul Stewart was best man for Stephen who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stewart of Colma. Ushers were Tom Conci, the bride's brother and David Schenone, the bride's cousin.

Linda is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Attilio Toci of Oakland and the late Faustina Conci of Colma.

Frank LaPierre

Post-Times Writer

CONFIDENTIAL to the person that buttonholed me at Westlake Joe's lounge the other p.m. about union picketing of a certain construction outfit working in the North County. After checking around I find your facts are true, but the story isn't complete. The people you professed to represent are all non-union also. There's an old saying about folks that live in glass houses throwing rocks.

LOOKING OVER THE AGENDA for the North Coast County Water District we find one item that enthralls us no end — water rights to Martini Creek. Imagine a whole creek brim full, and not an olive tree in sight. Oh well!

NOT ONE, BUT TWO — Jeff High School Board trustee Mrs. Jane Powell's son, Rip, just became a proud papa. The bouncing baby boy's name is Robert Paul Powell. That's not the story. Here 'tis: BOTH Robert Paul Powell's (the baby) great grandparents on both sides of the family — all four — are alive. We'd wager the odds on this are pretty good.

SPECIAL WARNING — Some South City businessmen have been approached to place an ad in the "City Directory," only there ain't no such solicitation going on at this time the City Directory Service advises.

AND WHILE WE'RE on the subject of S.S.F., the Chamber of Commerce has moved to larger quarters at the Magnolia Center, 601 Grand Avenue, same city.

MORE ON SOLICITATION — This time from Daly City. Just got a complaint that a group of youngsters are blitzing the city selling homemade candy to supposedly benefit the NAACP Youth Chapter. Don't you believe it, an NAACP official told us. The caller said a check of San Francisco and local chapters failed to acknowledge any such solicitation. Any question on who is ringing your doorbell and selling candy, tickets or magazines? Call police (992-1225). If the solicitors are legit that's one thing, if they're not it's another matter.

BOTH SIDES DENY IT but it sure looks like a feud between South City and Daly City (with San Bruno jabbing D.C. every once in awhile) over myriad matters. Most recent irritation started when South City started annexation proceedings for a small plot of Daly City land for a park without telling anyone at D.C. City Hall. This was followed by a two-way tug-of-war over who would represent the North County on the BARTD extension study board. D.C. Councilman Frank Pacelli won out over SSF Councilman Frank Bertucelli and picked (instead of Bertucelli) SSF councilman Warren Steinkamp. Absolutely the latest D.C. slap at SSF is the ignoring of a letter asking for support of a resolution concerning jet noise at International Airport. Let's hope it all ends soon and doesn't turn into another Vietnam with San Bruno sending in troops to support South City. Such a conflict could spread and engulf the entire Bay Area — including Berkeley.

THE SHADOW KNOWS — That D.C. police captain David Hansen took the written test for Seattle (Washington) police chief and did so well he was invited to spend two days in that city for the oral testing. Twenty-one eligible police — ten from within the department and eleven from outside — took the rigid exam.

KEEPING POSTED — Remember the Old Days? When restaurants used to stick their first dollar behind a glass, frame it and hang the loot on the wall for all to see? Well inflation has been eating at that dollar for a good while. The other p.m. happened into the Tsurugi Japanese restaurant on Geary near 43rd Avenue and, behold, there on the wall for all to see was the first bill the eatery took in — a $5 certificate instead of a one dollar bill.

A PIECE OF CAKE — Councilman Dick Griffith's wife, tired of hearing all the complaints about how hard her husband and his fellow councilmen work at meetings without eating a decent meal (they often send out for hamburgers and cokes) decided to bake them a cake. Which she did and which they liked. Matter of fact Mrs. Griffith delivered her cake at the height of the recent budget discussions with firemen. It sorta sweetened up the whole atmosphere. Maybe that's what we need around this crypt — a piece of cake that is!

PETITIONS GALORE circulating around the county regarding election of county supervisors. Down San Bruno and Millbrae way even some councilmen are out walking precincts with the petitions. D.C.'s Mayor Bud Lycett, who has been screaming about the present at-large system being antiquated, has been buttonholing everyone who will give him two minutes so he can explain why they should change to district elections.

AND SPEAKING OF LYCETT — Some children in the Lausanne Avenue section of Daly City recently wrote (in big letters) to let him know the secret of keeping the city's streets clean — namely, get out there with brooms and do it yourself! That's what they've been doing three times a week and it truly works. The letter was signed by 13 ambitious youngsters.

SICK CALL FLASH — D.C. Postmaster Vincent Murphy hit with a heart attack and rushed to Palm Drive Hospital in Sebastopol. Murphy was vacationing with Mercy Ambulance Company owner Kevin McDonald when he was stricken . . . Former D.C. City Manager Ed Frank at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma. Gall bladder ailment.

About Dogs Running Loose

"What can be done about loose dogs in my neighborhood?"

First, it must be pointed out that all animal control within the jurisdictional limits of the City of San Bruno are handled by the Peninsula Humane Society and not by your local Police Department.

The City of San Bruno obtains animal control service from the Peninsula Humane Society through San Mateo County, therefore almost all dog complaints should be referred to the "PHS," located at Coyote Point, since they are the agency equipped to handle the enforcement of any violation of the City Code of the City of San Bruno regarding loose dogs.

Section 4-1 of the City Code reads in part, "No owner or person having possession of or in charge of any dog shall allow the same to be or remain upon any public street or place in the city without being securely fastened or held by a leash, chain, rope or cord and led or held by some person or otherwise securely fastened or held."

Should any citizen of San Bruno have a loose dog problem in their neighborhood, they should contact the Peninsula Humane Society, identify themself and advise the "PHS" that there is a loose dog or dogs on (here indicate the street and the block number) also if possible indicate the time of day that the dog is observed running loose as this information aids "PHS" in their enforcement tactics.

THE PENINSULA HUMANE Society, on receiving a complaint will dispatch the first available Humane Officer to the location given in an attemt to locate and take into custody the loose dog. If the impounded animal has an owner, the owner will be required to appear at the animal shelter at Coyote Point to claim their animal, after paying the required fees.

If on the animal's return to the community, the owner continues to permit the animal to run loose, and in the opinion of the enforcing agency it appears necessary, they would request a complaint be signed by the City ATTORNEY.

After the City Attorney files the complaint a warrant would be issued for the arrest and appearance in court of the owner of the animal.

The complaint would be signed by the agent of the Humane Society if he personally observed the animal running loose, however, there may be cases when only an interested citizen would be legally able to sign a complaint charging a violation of Section 4-1 of the City Code.

"WHAT CAN I DO ABOUT OBSCENE OR HARASSING TELEPHONE CALLS?"

Offensive callers usually just want an audience. You can usually discourage them by simply hanging up.

HANG UP — if the caller doesn't answer when you say "hello."

HANG UP — at the first obscene word or improper personal question.

HANG UP — if the caller doesn't identify himself to your satisfaction.

Never give your phone number to an unknown caller. Be sure to instruct your children and baby sitter not to give any information over the phone. Have them obtain the caller's name and number and say that you will call back.

If calls persist contact the local Business Office of the Telephone Company who will advise you, and if necessary aid the Police Department in the apprehension of the caller who is violating a state law, which can result in fines and imprisonment up to six months.

Questions about the San Bruno Police Department's operations and procedures, as well as any questions relative to crime, may be answered by writing to Chief Russell J. Cunningham, Civic Center, San Bruno, 94066.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY

Better Business Bureau

Corning Glass Works has asked the National Better Business Bureau to notify all Bureaus that it does NOT manufacture photochromic sunglasses with plastic lenses.

This new type lens, which adjusts to changing light condition, is on the market made of both glass and plastic. The plastic sunglasses are sold over-the-counter while photochromic lenses made of glass are provided through prescription only.

Corning, which manufactures only glass photochromic lenses, is greatly concerned over the complaints it has been receiving concerning the tint in the plastic lenses fading after a few month's time. To help clarify the confusion concerning the two types of sunglasses, Corning advises that its glass photochromic lens are dispensed under the trademark of PHOTOGRAY by prescription only, and does not fade.

The Food and Drug Administration warns gardeners and others about the unlabeled hazards of potential poisoning from common decorative plants or their seeds. Such plants include the castor bean and the jequirity bean.

The rosary pea can be fatal if chewed or swallowed.

Other plants that are toxic when ingested are: One poinsettia leaf can kill a child; Mistletoe has been known to be fatal to both children and adults; Daffodil, hyacinth and narcissus bulbs cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea and can be fatal. Gardeners and home owners should take a careful appraisal of the poisonous potential of their favorite decorative plants in and around the home.

The National Better Business Bureau has issued a warning against the use of small, dry-cell battery chargers. If the dry-cells are overcharged, gases can form inside and the battery will explode.

Advertising for home battery rechargers should not state or imply that all dry-cell batteries can be recharged by the average consumer. Most of the batteries used in toys, flash lights and radios are considered non-rechargeable.

You can be cremated by your electric blanket. A national testing agency, making a routine, standard test for determing flammability, found that swatches from five blankets typical of the rayon-blend models on the market all burned with a fierce, rapidly spreading flame.

QUESTION: "Does the new truth-in-lending law regulate interest?"

ANSWER: "No. This type of work calls for specialized training, skill and experience. Many service station mechanics who do aligning work are not on duty Sundays. Many firms advertise services which obviously can only be performed when the particular skilled personnel are at work."

QUESTION: "I bought a power lawn mower last year and only used it a few times. It will not start and the store says I will have to pay for repairs.

ANSWER: "Check your warranty. The warranty period on your mower is based on time period; not now often you use it. If your warranty period has expired you will have to pay for the repairs."

QUESTION: "When you say that a complaint is closed as controversial, what do you mean?"

ANSWER: When a complaint is fully justified and some adjustment or explanation is given by the store or firm, but it is not satisfactory to the complainant, it is considered a controversial closing of the complaint. Much is involved, depending upon all the factors and facets of the individual situation."

Make It Happen

"Anyone — no matter how young, obscure and poor" wrote John Fischer of Harper's Magazine, "can make things happen in the corridors of government if he applies his little leverage at the right time and place."

The annals of history are full of stories that prove that this is true. An Indiana chemist started the movement that resulted in the food and drug laws of the United States; a lone bewhiskered farmer from Iowa started a movement that forced the railroads of America to adopt safety devices that saved the life of thousands; an author of short stories named Samuel Hopkins Adams tore the lid off of the patent-medicine business.

But desire to make things happen in the corridors of government is not enough. It requires that each individual discover for himself how, where, and when to make his influence felt. "The art of government," Mr. Fischer said, "is the highest and most difficult of the arts." This being true, it behooves a citizen to learn something about the art of government.

For instruction, I suggest he consult a good textbook in American government. Magruder's American Government and Ogg and Ray's Introduction To American Government are classics in the field. Government Is Your Business by Father James G. Keller and The Federal Textbook On Citizenship from the U.S. Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization are popular treatments.

Throughout Father Keller's book, there are lists of principles that are vital to the person who seeks an ever-improving government. A few may be summarized as follows:

1. Acquire a knowledge of the responsibilities of the various branches of the government lest you waste everybody's time inopportuning the wrong agency.

2. Make your voice heard through letters. A letter to an official gives him a chance to look into the matter in question and an opportunity to act.

3. If you have a matter to be placed before a council, commission, school board, file a request in writing that the matter be heard. This is the way to place the question on the agenda of both study sessions and general meetings. People and groups who bombard commission and council meetings with matters that are not on the agenda and haven't been discussed in study sessions waste a great amount of time and seldom get satisfaction.

4. Work within such organizations as political parties, voters and taxpayers groups and civic clubs. Father Keller wrote that such groups "are the chief instruments of democratic government whatever defects they may have . . . If everyone was non-partisan who would do all the spade work, make the necessary preliminary investigations and make recommendations that the average busy citizen has neither time nor adequate experience to do for himself? Who would provide information on important issues to be voted on?"

5. Keep a sense of proportion. Avoid extremes. Avoid being too critical and forever negative. Magruder's book observes that political strife and violence mar our national progress.

6. Acquire a clear picture of the issues. "Remember," wrote Father Keller, "in government there are two sides to every issue."

7. Know the tax structure of your city, your school district, your state.

8. When you make a proposal be prepared to inform the body that will hear it of what you want, why, and how it will work.

9. When matters that interest you are submitted to public hearings prepare to attend and to speak your mind or to support someone who has been chosen to speak for your group and therefore for you. Every authority on practical politics warns that noisy disruptive groups deter action on the matters under consideration.

10. A good citizen works within the framework of the government. On this point, Mr. Fischer wrote, "Politics is not necessarily a dirty business but the noblest and sometimes the most heartbreaking of callings.

11. Visit your public library for books about government and about issues. A good citizen, it is still true, is an informed citizen.

Ability To Act

Power is the ability to act, and Presidential power is the ability of the President of the United States to act and speak for the people of this nation. Understandably, Presidents take a long and strong view of the nature of their power, particularly in foreign affairs. The words of some are worth considering.

Woodrow Wilson:

"The President is at liberty, both in law and in conscience," he wrote, "to be as big a man as he can. His capacity will set the limit . . ."

Harry Truman:

"The President must use whatever power the Constitution does not expressly deny him."

Theodore Roosevelt:

"My belief was that it was not only his (the President's) right, but his duty, to do anything that the needs of the Nation demanded, unless such action was forbidden by the Constitution or by the laws."

Such statements certainly evidence a willingness to assume broad power and call for an inquiry into the basis of and limitations upon Presidential authority. Nowhere is this question more important than in foreign affairs and the waging of war.

War by Congressional declaration, conduct of military operations by the Commander In Chief, foreign commerce and foreign relations by the President, and treaties negotiated by the President with advice and consent of the Senate, all focus on one person — the President of the United States. While the powers and nature of checks and balances vary, he is central to all of them.

The President not only has authority through the Congress, but has plenary and exclusive power as the sole organ of the Federal Government in the field of international relations. His authority in this area is far less restricted than in domestic matters, and the doctrine that only granted powers exist has been held to not apply.

As though all of this was not enough, the President can resort to the unwritten power of the fait accompli. It is well and fine for us to consider his constitutional powers, but from outside the United States, and in the eyes of international law and of the world, he has the ability to commit the Nation.

No Kaiser, Caesar, Emperor or Potentate ever dreamed of commanding a raw force available to a modern American President. Up to now, only his Russian counterpart can come near matching the means at his disposal.

Little wonder that we inquire as to the limitations upon presidential power. Some of these reside in Congress, and others in the people.

In the past few weeks, the United States Senate has been wallowing in the Constitutional abyss. The Cooper-Church amendment and the inevitable amendments to amendments present an illusion of balance of power between the Congress and President.

True enough, Congress has the capacity to turn off funds in support of executive action. It alone has the power to declare war. The Senate may refuse to concur in treaties, both Houses may pass resolutions contrary to or deploring Presidential action, and the Congress can generally retaliate by refusing to support Presidential programs in unrelated fields. Congress has the power of impeachment.

But the Commander in Chief retains the sole power of negotiation and initial action. He, and he alone, speaks for the nation, in the first instance. This is based on practicalities of modern power, as well as upon our constitutional structure. Protection of the nation, to say nothing of other parts of the free world, requires great flexibility, secrecy and immediacy. One person must be able to act after such consultation and advise as he may choose. Under our system, this is the President.

The most meaningful limitations reside in the people. Under our representative system of government, they control the right to elect. This check, however, is limited itself by the fact that the President has a four year term.

But the people possess the most important limitation of all. This acts not so much on the power of initial action as on the ability to lead. A classic case remains before our eyes. President Johnson retained his full constitutional power to act right up to his last day in office. But long before, he had lost the capacity to lead. Presidents are, by nature, political people, and as any President, of necessity, has a long view of himself in terms of history, this limitation is a powerful one indeed. It explains why modern presidents, with lightning in their hand, have in the main acted within an acceptable range of options and positions. Inclusion, consultation and deliberation are all assets that enhance Presidential capacity to lead. Obviously, there are some emergent circumstances that make this impractical or impossible. But they are the implements which a President can use to retain his leadership ability. This is why since Cambodia, we have seen and heard so much from the President himself, the Secretary of State and other advisers. The likelihood is that national consultation, in its many forms, will continue strongly in coming months.

ADVERTISING PAYS — But, obviously, the message in this car window goes deeper than a mere ham sandwich. Apparently a reaction to the ever-widening police community relations, the driver of this vehicle, parked in the lot at Daly City City Hall, makes no bones about his position. (Post Photo)

Breuner's On Schedule

Construction of Breuner's newest store, eleventh in the Northern California chain, is proceeding on schedule in Daly City, according to officials at Breuner's central office headquarters in Oakland.

Located in Serramonte Plaza, opposite Serramonte Center on Serramonte Blvd. and Gellart, the $2 million Breuner's Wayside store is scheduled to open in late fall. Already the structure is taking definite shape and form.

Of casual, early California design, the one-story, 120,000-square-foot building will feature an adobe-type slump block wall, natural exposed wood, and lavish areas of glass. Sloping roof lines with expansive overhangs will provide approximately 800 feet of covered walkway encompassing the store's perimeter.

"Breuner's Daly City store will continue the chain's long tradition of stressing customer service," stated a headquarter's spokesman.

Breuner's offers an automatic Revolv-a-count charge plan a drive-in "will call" area accessible directly from the parking lots, a "coffee corner" where customers can help themselves to free coffee, baby strollers, and free delivery service on purchases over $10.

In addition, a decorator studio and home planning center staffed with professional decorators will be available at no additional charge to Breuner's customers.

Breuner's new Wayside store will be the first building erected in Serramonte Plaza, a new commercial park, owned by Crocker Land Company, and being developed by that firm.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Whistle Stop "Blowing It's Top" With New Decor

Leo Martay has re-opened his popular restaurant in Belmont. After closing for almost a month to completely remodel the interior and kitchen, The Whistle Stop now boasts of a new chicken take-out department which features "the recipe that made chicken famous" — tender honey-dipped chicken. Coach seats are used for booths, an old boiler was made into a fireplace, and siding from the historic Frank's Tannery of Redwood City make up an unusual wall decor. It's like dining in an old western train station. "Check in" for one of the Peninsula's finest hamburgers and see it all for yourselves . . . Betty Miles, former owner of the Korner Kitchen in San Carlos, has taken over the San Mateo Pic n' Pan (which she has renamed Betty's Pic n' Pan) and is specializing in home cooking. Soup (cup or large bowl) and chili are Betty's own recipes. A menu specialty is offered each day, plus an assortment of sandwiches, salads and entrees. If you fancy home made cake, pudding or pie, try Betty's. The Pic n' Pan is located on Twenty-fifth Avenue in San Mateo at the gateway of the San Mateo County Fairgrounds.

Leo Martay

CHUCK'S DONUTS No. 3 opened recently in the Lauriedale Shopping Center, San Mateo. "We feature the Peninsula's largest selection of donuts," say Chuck Berks (left) and Manager Tony Rizzo, who invite you to ask about their wholesale and retail special quantity discounts. Other locations (both in San Carlos) are Holly and Old County Road, and Laurel Avenue at Greenwood.

Adrian Stickney Soon To Be Magazine Feature

Adrian Stickney, a successful restaurateur since 1950 and one of the Peninsula's largest restaurant employers, will soon be the subject of a feature story in Beverage Industry News, the Bible of the liquor industry. Stickney, who began as a butcher in Alameda, now owns five Stickney restaurants and cocktail lounges from San Mateo to San Jose. His most recent enterprise is the highly-ranked Shirt Tail restaurant in Palo Alto . . . The Shamrock Inn, South Lake Tahoe, offers many family features including a recreation room, Sauna bath, and a pool table for the youngies. This vacation dwelling is located at the back exit of the Sahara-Tahoe parking area . . . Bank of America execs, dining like kings in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco, complimented Lehr on his gourmet steak delicacy, Peach Wellington, Claudia. Phil created the dish in honor of Dean Martin's beautiful actress daughter, Claudia, and it has already become the famous restaurant's most popular specialty. . .

Sheila Ruiz, petite featured singer in the Jack Ross Show now in the Casino Lounge of Cal-Neva Lodge, North Lake Tahoe, has never studied music or had voice lessons. Although she cannot read a single note on a sheet of music, Sheila has developed a style of singing which faintly shows the influence of her idols, Barbra Streisand and Dionne Warwick. Jack Ross claims it will not be long until she is a star. Cal-Neva President Leo Nightingale reports: "Our decision to remain open year-round has brought North Lake Tahoe in its entirety out of a long winter sleep into a lively recreational area for winter and summer buffs alike." . . . Clay Wolfe, co-owner of The Lost Knight, Inc., smart cocktail lounge in the South San Francisco Royal Inn, is anxious for the entertainment-conscious public to know that the West Coast's well known Larry Polson Trio will play for dancing five nights a week (Tuesday through Saturday) from 9 p.m. Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres are served from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m., lunches and dinners are available daily. A highlight on Tuesday is a fashion show of current styles from 12:30 p.m. 24 hour service in The Jolly King restaurant seven days a week . . . Nick Gust, Pacifica Mayor, restaurateur, and sportsman, has just one golf desire — to play in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament. Since Nick is a doer (he makes things happen), it wouldn't surprise your Bright Lighter if he is invited to be an entry in the next tourney.

Liza Minnelli, singer-dancer who has matured into a full-fledged motion picture-television-cafe entertainer, was unveiled at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas at a recent celebrity premiere hosted by her father, film producer Vincente Minnelli . . . There is hardly one of us who, at one time or another, hasn't spent a day or evening at George Hoberg's famous Lake County resort, which has all the answers to a perfect vacation. Labor Day fun is the next big festivity on the calendar. So act now — make plans to join the crowds . . . The Hilton Inn, San Francisco International Airport, is expanding and remodeling, and the first 25 rooms of the new addition will be ready for occupancy later this month, according to Donald Devoto, general manager . . . Fosters Farm-Fried Chicken House, El Camino at 29th Avenue, will offer a chicken dinner special coupon for a savings of $1 on their "take-home Farm-Fried chicken (includes 14 pieces of chicken, 10 fluffy rolls and a pint of gravy). This bucket for five special will be good Monday, July 20 through Friday, July 26. Clip the coupon appearing in "Bright Lights." . . . Yes, The Shadows of San Mateo crew is back in action and all is running like clock work. Continental dinners, served full course or a la carte, German dishes, soups prepared to travel, banquets and outside catering.

Lone Delegate Is AIP Chairman

The San Mateo County Central Committee of the American Independent Party — all one member of it — met on July 14 for its organizin session.

The meeting, which consisted of the single candidate who was elected last month, was called to order by James Sweeney, a deputy county clerk, in the Redwood City courtroom of Superior Court Judge Frank B. Blum.

Because he was the only AIP committee candidate on the ballot, Nicholas W. Kudrovzeff, an electrician of 1104 Rosita Road, Pacifica, became committee chairman by default.

From that point the membership began to grow, increasing by 100 per cent within a matter of minutes. Kudrovzeff had brought with him a friend, Royce G. Ackerman, 515 Rockaway Beach Avenue, Pacifica, whom he appointed committee secretary.

Also in attendance were three ex officio members of the committee who gained that status by virtue of their unopposed candidacies for AIP nominations in the primary election: Robert W. Bullock, the party choice for state senator; John W. Lynch, AIP candidate for assemblyman from the twenty-seventh District, and Joseph D. Cooney, who will be on the ballot in the Twenty-sixth Assembly District.

BART Study Grant Is Authorized

The U.S. Department of Transportation has announced a grant of $371,333, which together with $185,667 in local contributions will be used to determine the means of linking the San Francisco Airport with the BART Daly City station.

Policy direction of the study is being provided by two representatives from San Francisco, Mayor Alioto and Supervisor Mailliard; two from San Mateo, Supervisor James Fitzgerald, Councilman Francis Pacelli and B. R. Stokes representing BART. The board will meet Wednesday, July 29, at 9 a.m. in the City Council chambers of the Daly City City Hall. One of the items on the agenda will be consideration of the consultant contract.

Immediately after completion of the agenda items, time will be taken to acquaint all interested public officials with the scope and nature of the project. The project manager and consultants will make a short presentation and be prepared to respond to questions.

Drive Leader Is Selected

Sheldon Winston, Coordinator of Child Welfare and Attendance for the South San Francisco Unified School District, is serving as a District Chairman for the 1970 United Bay Area Crusade.

Winston was also a district chairman in 1968 and 1969.

Winston has been an official of the SSFUSD District since 1968. Previously he was vice principal at South San Francisco High School for four years. He has written articles for professional journals and lectured extensively on the problem of drug used by high school students.

A native of Los Angeles, Winston holds BA and MA degrees from Los Angeles State College and the MA degree in secondary school administration from SF State College.

Destination Is Sweden

Helena R. Kurttila, a graduate of South San Francisco, Class of '66, has been selected for a year's study at the University of Uppsala in Sweden for the 1970-71 year. Dr. Thomas Lantos, programs director, reported Miss Kurttila is a participant in the International Programs of the California State Colleges.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paavo Kurttila, 2224 Shannon Drive, SSF, Helena is an English major at SF State College. A native of Finland, the SSF High grad spent last summer in Scandinavia. She plans to teach English as a foreign language.

Questionnaire Return Asked

San Bruno Chamber of Commerce Trade Analysis Chairman Jack Head reports that it is important that residents who receive the "buying habits" questionnaire mailed out by the chamber take time to answer the questions.

The main objective of the three-page questionnaire mailed at random to 2,000 households in the city is to inaugurate a program of improvement leading to better merchandising and improved community services.

A postpaid return envelope was included in the questionnaire.

J.A. Cunningham, Bruno Leader, Dies

Joseph A. Cunningham, the City of San Bruno's second treasurer and father of the community's chief of police, Russell Cunningham, died July 14 in Millbrae after a lengthy illness.

He was 80.

Cunningham, a long time employe of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, serving in San Francisco, was San Bruno's part time treasurer for 36 years.

He first assumed office from Herman Mathiesen in April of 1929, just six years after the city was incorporated. He remained in that position until his retirement at the age of 65 in April of 1956.

He lived at 517 Acacia Avenue prior to the illness of several weeks. Death came at a Millbrae convalescent home.

Veteran municipal employes, who recall Cunningham as a "very jovial, and very, very pleasant man," said he knew everybody at city hall by his first name.

He was well known and well liked during his tenure as treasurer, those who knew him said, and was described by one former co-worker as a "gentle, pleasant man" who was seen around city hall frequently even though his was not a full time position.

Cunningham retired from PG&E in 1955 after 45 years' service with the company. He was a pressure tender in the gas division.

A native of San Francisco, Cunningham and his wife, Helen, who died in 1964, came to San Bruno in 1911, and constructed their home in the Belle Aire region.

He was one of the original members of the San Bruno Fire Department and responded with it for 15 years.

He was also a member of the San Bruno Park School District Board of Trustees from 1916 to 1924.

He held membership in the South San Francisco Elks Club and the Bay County Peace Officers Association.

Survivors include Chief Cunningham, and other sons, Donald and Robert of Redwood City, and a daughter, Bernice Thomas of Downey.

Burial followed a 9:30 a.m. requiem mass Friday at St. Robert's Catholic Church.

AGOSTINO FABBRI

The father of former South San Francisco police chief John V. Fabbri died in Kaiser Hospital Thursday following a brief illness.

Agostino Fabbri, 72, suffered a heart attack at his home at 613 Spruce street, South San Francisco, and was taken to nearby Kaiser Hospital.

Rosary will be said Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Garden Chapel, 885 El Camino Real, S.S.F. with funeral services commencing at 8 a.m. Monday followed by a requiem mass at All Soul's Catholic Church.

Entombment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Giuseppina Fabbri; a daughter, Alice of Stockton; and son, John, presently police chief of Fremont.

A native of Italy, Fabbri had lived in South San Francisco 56 years and was a retired steel worker.

He was also a member of the Sons of Italy, Alessandro Volta Lodge 1956; South San Francisco Grove 171 Druids, and Italian-American Citizens Club of South San Francisco.

MARGARET SAHLBERG

Margaret Sahlberg, 60, of 405 Cypress Avenue, South San Francisco, died Wednesday in Burlingame.

Funeral services were scheduled for this afternoon from the Chapel of Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary, South San Francisco. Interment was to be at Olivet Memorial Park.

She was a native of Kansas and lived in the county for 25 years.

Survivors include her husband Walter and son Gene Porter of Oklahoma.

ALBINO M. MAIERO

Albino M. Maiero, 81, of 397 Cypress Avenue, San Bruno, died Wednesday at a Millbrae rest home.

He was a native of Italy, and had lived here for 18 years.

Surviving is his wife, Pierina Maiero, a son, Aldo, both of San Bruno, two grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Maria Odiard of Sonoma.

A requiem mass will be said at St. Robert's Catholic Church in San Bruno at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday. The rosary will be recited at the Chapel of the Highlands in Millbrae on Monday at 8 p.m. Entombment will follow.

RONALD HOSKIN

Ronald Hoskin, 18, of 311 Seaside Drive, Pacifica, died Saturday in San Francisco.

Memorial services will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. today at the Jehovah's Witness Kingdom Hall in Pacifica. Nauman and Lincoln Chapel by the Sea, Pacifica, is in charge of arrangements.

A native of Utah, he was a resident of the county for six years, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. DeVerl.

Survivors also include sisters, Linda Togtaglia of San Rafael, Patricia Faulkner of Blanco, Tex., Judith Boyden of San Rafael and Cheryl and Darlene of Pacifica.

Gravenstein Orchards Provide Summer's First Crop Of Apples

The Gravenstein apple, first California apple to reach the fresh market in appreciable quantity each season, appears in food market produce departments throughout California in mid-July. Quantities increase late in July, reach their peak by mid-August and then taper off, disappearing shortly before Labor Day.

While usually, Gravenstein orchards experience only one bloom each season, this year four separate blooms occurred, which means that each tree will require several pickings as fruit matures. This should mean a fairly steady supply throughout the fresh season with an attendant fair, even price structure.

Gravenstein — the name sounds as if it should belong to a family castle in Germany. Actually, there was a Castle Gravenstein, although it was located in Denmark, and under its imposing shadow grew the most famous apple orchards in all of Europe.

The Gravenstein apple, with its tart, distinctive flavor did not long escape the attention of foreign visitors. In 1826 a Captain DeWolfe imported some of the delightful apples to America, and by 1880 the first commercial Gravenstein orchard was planted by Nathaniel Griffith in Sebastopol, where the rich soil and mild climate soon turned his small experiment into a thriving business.

Today, Gravensteins are typically Californian. Virtually all of the world's Gravenstein apple crop is produced in this state, and nearly 95 per cent comes from the area of Sebastopol in Sonoma county where the first orchard was planted 90 years ago.

Besides being an excellent eating apple, with a winey tart, crisp flavor very distinctive from any other variety, the Gravenstein is also an excellent cooking apple. The applesauce made from Gravensteins is perhaps the most well-known in the world, and in fact its production now comprises the main industry of the Grav's "home town," Sebastopol.

In addition, California Gravensteins make one of the best "green apple" pies anyone could ask for, being probably the firmest and tartest of the green apple variety. In fact, if the Gravenstein could be stored throughout the year, apple lovers would be delighted. But its season is short, and fortunately it is followed by other California varieties.

California Gravensteins can be easily recognized in the produce department by their distinctive greenish-yellow skin which is often striped with red. As the season progresses, the cheeks of the Gravenstein become increasingly flushed with light and dark vertical stripes.

If you like a tart, crisp, "authoritative" apple, the Gravenstein is for you. Try some California Gravensteins on a warm summer night, fresh, with slices of a robust cheese.

Tuna Salads Stimulate Appetites

Tuna for summer cooking helps you beat the heat! Arouse warm weather appetite lags with these "break away from the ordinary" tuna delights.

Select - A - Salad has everyone making his own salad — start with chilled tuna, add crunchy celery and green pepper and top with an interesting flavor and texture of bean sprouts and fresh mushroom slices. Finish off this salad with your favorite dressing for a refreshing main dish, possibly an oriental fare dressing using ¾ cup mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons milk and 2 teaspoons soy sauce.

SLECT-A-SALAD

1 can (6½ or 7 oz.) tuna, chilled and drained
1 can (16 oz.) bean sprouts, chilled and drained
½ cup diagonally sliced celery
½ cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1 green pepper, sliced
Lettuce
Dressing

Flake tuna. Arrange with bean sprouts, celery, mushrooms and green pepper on lettuce-lined serving platter. Serve with your favorite salad dressing. 4 servings.

Not the ordinary stuffed tomato salad, Sea Shell Tuna Salad carefully combines the delicate taste of tuna and shell macaroni in a cheese sauce with a just right and different flavor. This recipe can be put together without fuss and bother — but looks like it took much "to-do."

SEA SHELL TUNA SALAD

6 tomatoes
1 cap shell macaroni, cooked and drained
2 cans (6½ or 7 oz. each) Tuna, drained and flaked
1-3 cup sliced celery
1-3 cup sliced green onion
¼ cup sliced stuffed green olives
1 can (6 oz.) cheese sauce
¼ cup sour cream
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
Lettuce
Lemon wedges

Place tomatoes stem-side down. Cut each (not quite through) into 6 wedges. Chill. Combine macarni, tuna, celery, onion and olives. Blend cheese sauce, sour cream, sugar, salt and pepper. Add to tuna mixture and mix well. Cover and chill. Just before serving, fill tomatoes with tuna mixture. Serve on lettuce-lined plates. Garnish with lemon wedges. 6

Caraway Is Complement To Burgers

True enjoyment of summer includes broiling beefburgers on the porch or patio. Patties broil to the same juicy and delicious doneness whether a hibachi or larger grill is used.

For a special burger treat to celebrate summer and delight the family, hide a cube of caraway seed cheese in the center of each patty. For additional flavor appeal, burgers are brushed with a tangy catsup sauce.

GARAWAY BEEF PATTIES

Shred 2 slices of rye bread and mix with one third cup water. Combine with 1½ pounds ground beef, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 1 beaten egg. Shape mixture into 12 thin patties using about ¼ cup mixture for each.

Cut in half each of 3 slices (4 x 7-inches) caraway seed cheese and arrange the 6 slices in a stack. Make 3 cuts through cheese to make pieces about 2 inches square. Place a stack of 4 cheese squares on each of 6 patties. Top with remaining patties and press edges together. Combine one third cup catsup, 1 teaspoon soy sauce, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon lemon uice.

To broil outdoors, place patties on grill 3 inches from heat. Broil 3 minutes, turn, brush with catsup mixture and broil second side 3 minutes. Turn, brush with mixture, broil 3 minutes, turn and broil until patties are done. 6 servings.

Careful Storage Extends Useful Life Of Fresh Greens For Salads

Good to the last crunch can and should be the rule for vitamin-rich salad greens and relishes, whether you visit the greensgrocer daily as some European homemakers still do or shop weekly at a distant supermarket.

"Extending the life of such perishables in your refrigerator is every bit as important to your food budget as comparing canned goods prices at the supermarket," declared Mrs. Pauline Church, who advises the Republic Molding Corporation, Chicago, maker of plastic food containers.

"In buying two pounds of romaine at 39 cents a pound and allowing a fourth of it to spoil within a few days, for example you're tossing 20 cents into the garbage can," she explained. "This kind of waste is neither practical nor necessary when proper storage is used."

HERE ARE her suggestions for stretching produce pennies at home:

1. For head lettuce — promptly remove any unusable outer leaves and discard. Rinse head quickly under cold water and shake off excess moisture. Do not remove core, unless entire head is to be used within two days. Instead, store in a tightly covered container.

2. Bibb, Boston, Buttercrunch, and other delicate types of lettuce — follow same procedure as for head lettuce, being sure to wash and drain thoroughly. Store in any airtight container large enough to avoid crowding, first placing several layers of paper toweling in the bottom to absorb excess moisture.

If necessary, replace paper toweling after two or three days to reduce moisture inside the continer.

3. CHICORY or curly endive — wash thoroughly in cold water bath, shake off excess water, and store on spike in continer designed for head lettuce. A little crowding won't harm this hardy green, so long as it is kept cold and slightly moist.

4. Romaine, leaf lettuce — rinse thoroughly under cold spray and shake off water or allow to drain. Remove ragged outer leaves, trim off wilted leaf edges and core end (or romaine) if discolored. Break off wilted bases of lettuce leaves to prevent further wilting.

Both may be stored upright in an airtight continer such as a large plastic beverage decanter or celery crisper, if size permits. Otherwise, store in an airtight plastic bag (with air space inside) or in a airtight container with paper toweling underneath to absorb moisture. Don't crowd; allow "breathing space."

5. PARSLEY, watercress — immerse in cold water to loosen and remove any soil, then rinse under cold spray. Drain in colander or wire basket, shaking gently to remove water droplets. Before storing, break off any wilted stem ends and remove discolored leaves.

Choose an airtight continer large enough to avoid crowding.

Peach Tarts Are Festive Party Touch

Peach Charming Tarts, first filled with creamy-smooth butterscotch pudding, then crowned with canned peach pie filling, and sprinkled with toasted coconut, are a delight for dessert, even if there isn't a party. There's a hint of brown sugar in them to help enhance the blend and the contrast of favorite flavors.

There are two convenience ingredients that help create this dish — the can of peach pie filling, and another of ready-to-eat butterscotch flavor pudding.

Try the Peach Charming Tarts first. Then, when you discover how delicious they are, make up another version: Use ready-to-eat chocolate flavor pudding; skip the brown sugar, and cover the chocolate with canned cherry pie filling with a smidge of almond extract stirred in. Coconut or whipped topping could crown these treats.

PEACH CHARMING TARTS

6 baked tart shells (4¼ x 1¼ inches each)
1 can (18 oz.) ready-to-eat butterscotch flavor pudding
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tablespoons lemon juice, freshly squeezed
1 No. 2 can (1 lb., 5 or 6 oz.) peach pie filling
1-third cup toasted coconut

Remove cooled shells from pans. Combine pudding and vanilla; spoon into shells. Sprinkle about ½ teaspoon sugar over each. Stir lemon juice into pie filling and spoon over pudding in each shell. Decorate with coconut. Makes 6 tarts.

Spinach-Rice Stuffing For Veal Steaks

A happy marriage of flavors is produced when veal steaks enclose a spinach-rice stuffing. Spice, bacon and tomato sauce also contribute to the flavor harmony.

The meat and vegetable rolls need cook only 45 to 60 minutes because of veal's natural tenderness, according to Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Livestock and Meat Board.

VEAL AND SPINACH ROLLS

2 veal round steaks, cut ½ inch thick
2 slices bacon, diced
cup chopped onion
2 cups chopped raw spinach
¾ cup cooked rice
½ cup teaspoon salt
teaspoon garlic salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon marjoram
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
cup water

Cut veal into 6 serving-sized pieces and pound to about ¼-inch thickness. Cook bacon with onion until lightly browned. Add spinach, rice, salt, garlic salt, pepper, marjoram and nutmeg. Stir over low heat until spinach is slightly wilted. Place approximately 2 tablespoons spinach stuffing on each piece of meat. Roll as a jelly roll and fasten with wooden picks. Brown meat slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine tomato sauce and water and add to veal. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 to 60 minutes or until done, 6 servings.

FONDUE SERVICE

In addition to a fondue pot and burner, fondue forks are the only other necessity for a fondue dinner. Fondue plates are a added convenience, but are not indispensable. Fondue forks should have a handle of insultating material such as plastic or wood. A color-keyed handle tip found on some fondue forks helps the diner identify his own fork throughout the dinner.

Roles Defense And 'Luck' Play In Baseball

LE PACINI

Sportscripts

A COLUMN OF MISCELLANEOUS BASEBALL THOUGHTS — If we may go literally to right field to make a point: Eliminate Babe Ruth's 1,330 strikeouts and he would have hit .464, lifetime (No, we're not going to discuss Bobby Bonds, although the latter statistic could make him think a little bit about his own career.

In other words, Ruth got a hit virtually every other time he made contact with the ball.

Then consider the remark we've heard more than once from hitting theoriticians: That defense and luck play a big enough part in baseball to require a hitter to expect only one base hit out of every two balls he hits hard.

Now, not only does that mean, if one were to accpet the premise, that Ruth hit the ball hard virtually every time he made contact with the ball (which is another way of pointing up what a fantastic hitter Ruth was, as if we didn't know it), it would also explain how a 10 year .235 hitter, for instance, will suddenly have one of those seasons where he hits .335, like, say, the Cubs' Jim Hickman. And then just as suddenly drop back to .235 never again to reach beyond that plateau.

IN OTHER WORDS, stick around long enough and you'll catch up with the odds, at least temporarily; hopefully, long enough to grab a big pay raise.

We're not picking on Hickman. He just happens to be a ready example for the type of hitter we're writing about. In fact, we've always thought him an underrated player, but certainly not a .335 hitter. Now, maybe all of Hickman's experience and education in the School of Hard Knocks and Soft Infield taps has helped. Perhaps Leo Durocher has even given him secret tips on successful hitting in the big leagues, (which is highly unlikely, because then Leo would have also done it for Ron Santo and Ernie Banks.) But we'd bet that much of his hitting is being derived from those screamers down the line and Texas Leaguers which for 10 years were three inches foul or caught on scrambling dives to the turf, but which have all chosen this year to fall in.

WE HOPE YOU NOTICED that in the one direct confrontation between the Giants and the A's during the All-Star game, the Giants won by a knockout in the first 10 seconds. Dick Dietz hit a homerun off Catfish Hunter. We wonder if Charlie Finley exploded any firecrackers in his patio in Chicago?

★ ⅞ ★

GAYLORD PERRY, incidentally, may not have looked like the long-lasting type in that game, getting racked for four hits and two runs in his two inning stint and almost blowing it for the National League, but he still leads the majors in innings pitched, which indicates that he must be doing something impressive enough to be allowed to stay on the mound.

WHICH LEADS US TO RELIEF PITCHERS, who we're always contended have the most over-rated job in baseball. They generally enter a game that's already another pitcher's responsibility. If the reliefer gets out of the innings, he's a hero. If he doesn't, it was really the other guy's fault, anyway.

The relief pitcher doesn't have to worry about mixing his pitches or pacing himself. He can throw his best pitch and give it everything he's got on every delivery. He's generally brought in to face a man who has the percentages against him; a lefty pitcher for a lefty hitter, etc.

And if the hitters do get to him for a couple of bingles — he's pulled immediately — much sooner than a star starting pitcher who must always be given the benefit of the doubt, especially in early, less crucial innings — and replaced by a fresh relief pitcher, therefore avoiding a possible pasting preserving his earned run average.

Now the point. If a relief pitcher does come through, if he doesn't get the win, he at least gets a "save." But if he doesn't come through, and isn't tagged with the loss — which he usually isn't — he doesn't get a negative mark on the book.

Thus, theoretically, a relief pitcher could save 20 games during a season, according to the present statistical quirk, and NOT save 20, and still be credited with 20 "points" on his record.

In our personal record book, that pitcher would have a "-" in his record under the heading, "Net Games Saved."

ANOTHER STUPID RULE which should be wiped out of the books. At the All-Star game last week Willie McCovey came up with the bases loaded, no outs, and hit into a double-play. But a run scored. McCovey, because he hit into the DP, which the people who make rules feel is a negative performance, was not given credit for an RBI. But he SHOULD be. He could have popped up or struck out, in which case NO run would have scored. In making contact with the ball, putting it into play, he allowed all sorts of possibilities: a booted grounder, a two-run overthrow, and, yes, a double-play, which could and did score a run.

TO JIM BOUTON: Dear Jim: In case you haven't seen it, there are some national magazines carrying a full page adv. which I think you will be interested in, if you plan on doing a sequel to your book. When athletes were more colorful,
During the Golden Age of sports,
Sportswriters, too, it seems,
Added color to their reports.

There were some great ones, such as
Grantland Rice, Damon Runyon and Don Skene,
Ring Lardner, Dan Parker and George E. Phair
Were also on the scene.

John Kiernan, too, was there,
And what makes this group unique,
They were all quite good poets,
Giving the readers an added treat.

We tried a little poetry
In a column recently,
And the reactions of the readers
Seemed to agree with me.

So if we head our column
With a poem from time to time,
We'll do our best to make it good
And to also make it rhyme.

Serra Bowl

It takes some good scoring to roll a 700 series for three games, but the junior bowlers made it look easy this past week.

In the Adult Junior League, Steve Lewis 236, 258 and 245 for 739. Al Stonum 237, 201 and 278 for a 716. Nice going fellas. In the same league bowling against Al, John Armstrong 246 and 646. Keeping the adults from looking bad, Dave Gluck 234, 225 and 246 for a 705. Everett Neal 638, Tim Allen 256 and 635, Jack Papagna 608, Sandy Straffull 524 and Jo Banks 520.

In that league called the Reno Fun League where everyone has a good time, with the exception of Mike Cristofani who rolls 279 games practically every week but can't seem to get that 300. Anyway a 680 series isn't too bad. Keep it up Mike, it's coming. Everett Neal having a great week, this time 258 and 655. For the Gals, Kay Saxen 211 and 559. In the Surfside 14, Jim Dyche 214 and 614, Stev Hess 225 and 592, Tony Ligouri 224 and 597.

Another 600 for Chuck Gluck this time 604. In the Leftovers, with a 122 average Elaine Phera a 168 game, and Louisa Spieak with a 130 average 163. Betty Hamilton 175, and 491 and June Phinney 171 and 487. 650 Scratch, Sharon Anderton, 210 (a fair middle game) and 215 for 585. Sharon McGuinness 226 and 555, Rae Nielsen 549, and Sharon Mattei 548.

The adult junior, Tim Allen another nice series this time 267, 235 and 266 for a big 768. Dave Davis, 254, 682; Bill Funk Jr. 598, Bob MacArthur 579, Steve Lewis 583, John Preston 578, Patty Moreno 520. Bowling with Patty her Mom a nice 525 series.

For the gals in the Friday Blue Chip League, Sharon Wroten 606, Nona Bradley 202 and 492 and Mary Raney a 215 and 550. Lodge Trios, No. 800's this week, only a 781 rolled by Everett Neal again. The Mermaids, Vicky Preston a 206 and 527, and Sheryl Wetenkamp, a 526. The Ebb Tide gals, saw some nice scoring this week, Jeanne Allemand, after a 159 start, a 214 and 215 for 588. Nickie Pemberton 219 and 578, and Jackie Stall, 553.

Now for the big shooters, the 535 Trios, Chuck Gluck a big 677, Tim Allen had another big one, 255 and 851, Tony Simao 841, Jon Marshall 825, Howie Espinosa 823, Jim Cummings 820 and with 814, Bob Fisicaro and Frank Cotton. Alleyholics, I think I'm pronouncing that right, Thelma Corcorran 211 and 571, high game Grace Reed 232 and 536, and 214 and 531 for Sharon Penton. Mens Handicap Trios, Craig Papaleo 256 and 767, Dave Davis 765.

Activity On DC Playgrounds

THE POST'S SPORTS

M. PAULINE BROWN
By Leslie Fambrini

Last week's activities at M. Pauline Brown School ended with a day of special events that began with a carrom tournament.

Jon Nisby saw himself become the day's champion, with Erik Sausjord running a close second.

While this carrom tournament was underway, many of the Pauline Brown regulars were participating in a scavenger hunt throughout the neighborhood. Despite the length of the list of articles they had to find, Esther Espina and Loren Roth were able to obtain all but one item on the list and became the first place winners.

Donald Sheehan and Scott Giusti were the second place winners, while Karen Krause, Teresa Abrahamsohn, Patti Fambrini, and Lori Abrahamsohn tied for third. Special events are scheduled for every Friday afternoon.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
By Ginny Cristofani

The Pet Show revealed talent in pets as well as their owners.

John Dentoni's dog, "Tiger", won the "Best looking" award. "Tiger" in his best attire, wore an S.T.P. t-shirt, and a pair of undershorts and a blue ski-hat!

Elaine Johnston's German Shepherd, "Smokey", outraced all of the other dogs, to take first place honors. Glen Kinard's grey, Persian kitten, "Michael," won first place honors in the "Beauty Contest". After everyone shut their eyes and touched Gary Johnston's rabbit, "Snowey", with one hand and Glen's kitten, Michael, with the other, it was decided that "Snowey" was the softest.

"Chico" the chicken, entered by Robert Arana, won the "Most Unique Pet" award. We began casting and rehearsing for a play and a movie to be presented to the parents later during the summer.

We have music hour every Monday at 10 a.m. and free cartoons on Mondays at 12:15.

On Tuesdays at 10 a.m., we have arts and crafts.

Our good citizen for this week was Elaine Johnston!

Individual honors went to newcomer Bob Cremen, with four homers and six RBI's.

In the ping pong championship, Gary Stipawich placed first, second went to Bob Cremin and third went to Johnny Stack. Recently, at Vista Mar School, a Junior Olympics was held.

There were five different events with competition in the 50 yd. dash, 600 yd. dash, push-ups, running broad-jump and softball throw.

In the boys 11 and under division, first place went to Mike Adami, second place was Greg Bates, and coming in third was Roger Homer. Fine performances were turned in by Micha Corneil and Steve Adami.

In the girls 11 and under, first place was captured by Donna Imsand, second was Leslie Quinn and third was Patty Murphy. Other participants were Judy Tobin, Kathy Murphy, Jeannine and Julie Castellucci.

The winner in the boy's 12 and over division was Bill Cody. Terry Mahoney came in second and Richard Valenza took third place. Mark Cody also did well.

DANIEL WEBSTER
By Daniel Montelongo

At Daniel Webster, Jim Farras is the undefeated champ in the high school ping pong tournament. In the lower division, Scott Kimball rules the table. The girls' four square champ is Lynn Noonan with Diane Summers as the power house for kickball. The week of July 20-July 24 will be "challenge the champ" week for activities on the park. See your leader for information.

WESTLAKE SCHOOL
By Margaret Forbes

Last Thursday at Westlake School there was a barbecue for our older participants. Rick Ewing, Paul Giannini, Mike Kelly, Stan Jacobs, Dave Pederson, Bob Grealish, Doug Clapper, Mike Silverthorne, and Ken, Jerry and Linda Perotti. Instead of eating the marshmallows, they smeared them all over each other. They said they had fun, though! The latest activity at Westlake School is the intellectual game of Pick-Up-Sticks

WESTMOOR HIGH SCHOOL
By Rusty McManus

Westmoor Downs Jefferson! Boys from the Westmoor High School Sports Clinic, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division, took two of three basketball games from the Jefferson youngsters.

Westmoor won the A and B contests, 101-55 and 26-9, respectively, while Jefferson took the Class C tilt 11-10. High scoring honors for the day went to Westmoor's Ted Scott of the A Division, who tallied 59 points and displayed excellent ball control.

All boys aged seven through high school age interested in football are invited to attend "N.F.L." Highlights this Friday, July 17 — 11 a.m. to noon at Westmoor High School. Admission will be free. For further information contact the Daly City Recreation Division — or the Recreation Leader at Westmoor High gym, Rusty McManus.

WOODROW WILSON
By Francine Mohn

The prettiest knee award went to Eugenia Reed, while Odetta Lewis and Debbie Reed took second and third place honors.

In the second group, Maryann White had the prettiest knee and Zelda Lewis a close second with Christine Fernandez third. Known for the ugliest knee in Group 2 was Jackie Reyes and Terry Pickering.

THE MARQUEE

City's Heartbeat 'Experience'

They say the way to know a city is to walk around in it. With due respect for time, money and physical condition, a unique new entertainment medium can preface that walk and triple your pleasure with an instant visual guidebook that can be absorbed sitting down.

"The San Francisco Experience" is a film, something between an open love letter to the viewer and a travelogue. No brochure, or Chamber of Commerce expletives can compare with the emotional involvement you get during this half hour romance with a multi-faceted city and environs.

It isn't easy to explain because it's a highly complex Electrovision process involving 30 computerized motion picture and slide projectors and many special effects. You sit on high, upholstered swivel stoools before a giant arched convoluted screen while a quadraphonic sound (stereo) system surrounds the spectator. At least that's the technical explanation.

But on a human level, it's an amazingly fast series of overlay images that saturates the viewer's mind and senses with the sight, sound and beauty of the city. There are so many bombarding impressions, that even as a native I found myself fascinated with the historical background and panoramic tableau of its early beginnings.

Each image is in focus on three screens so that you neededn't twist yourself around unduly. But they're little more than flashes that meld and flow into each other between vocal narratives and the bleating of city sounds, the cacaphony of traffic noises and a contemporary rock musical score.

THE EFFECT IS REWARDING, DRAWING THE VIEWER INTO THE EXCITEMENT of a pulsating, often wicked, always friendly crossroads of sophistication and old world charm.

This isn't a merchant's promotion, or a documentary, but a quick study of the heart and soul of the St. Francis namesake that is fascinating to the stranger and the native both.

The terror of the 1906 earthquake and fire, with deafening roars crashing from all sides of the theater; the eccentricity of Joshua Norton, self proclaimed Emperor; the spell of its natural setting, including a side spin to Muir Woods, Sausalito, Yosemite, Monterey, Carmel and Big Sur; the nostalgia (for many of us) of the now stilled ferry boats. The city's lawlessness, its nefarious Chinese underworld, the panic of gold and silver besetting its inhabitants with greed and wealth; all this and more to feast upon in a Valentine pastiche that does the city justice.

I WAS PLEASED TO SEE ATTENTION GIVEN THE CHARACTER, rather than the terrain of the metropolitan jewel that hasn't let modern day living tarnish its brilliance. Of course the cable cars, Coit Tower, the bridges, the bay and all those narcissistic highlights that bring people and money into the mainstream of the community are exploited. But the windows, doors, lamps and flowers get their due also.

None of my friends or colleagues who viewed the show, nor Dave Sacks who with Bing Crosby head this welcome and permanent attraction, noticed that I appear in the last seven or eight minutes of the film standing with my back to the camera wearing a black and white silk print dress talking with my good friend and theater companion, Donald MacKay of San Mateo. If anytime in the past five months you remember seeing an earnest cameraman shooting crowds and scenes at random, you might enjoy the same surprise as we did to see ourselves candidly conversing on three screens. In our case it was during intermission of American Conservatory Theater's opening night of "Hadrian VII" at the Geary Theater.

I heartily recommend the "S.F. Experience" for clubs, families, church groups, visitors and adopted sons. It's tasteful, artistic, unique and colorful. Open seven days a week, performances are repeated every 30 minutes from 11 a.m. The exprience is heady and informative and youngsters and grown-ups alike will be charmed by the bubbles that float from the ceiling, the pulsating sound of foghorns and the lapping of waves as a breathtaking sunset frames the Golden Gate with unforgettable grandeur.

Drop Request For Damien Location

Because of fire department restrictions a use permit request to establish a Damien House, drop-in center, in South San Francisco was withdrawn.

Proponents of the center, however, were assured the planning commissioners would do whatever they could to help find a new location within the city. The center was proposed for 983 Linden Avenue.

In other business, the commissioners approved two other use permits, two final subdivision maps and okayed a tentative parcel map.

One use permit allows the Beverly - Glenwood Corporation to establish a planned-unit development at the northeast corner of Westborough Boulevard and Galway Drive.

The other gives J & R Donati permission to construct a commercial building at the southeast corner of Camaritas and West Orange Avenue.

One subdivision map finalized was in Westborough 4-A and represents the subdivision of approximately 23 acres southeast of Westborough and Gellert boulevards into 11 lots.

The other, in Westborough-West Park 3-B, is for subdivision of approximately 33 acres on the east side of Callan Boulevard, opposite Leix Way and Farnee Court into 270 lots.

Nab 2 For Marijuana

San Bruno police late last week arrested two persons on various charges of sale and possession of marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia.

Kemp Duvila Morgan, 22, and Marlene Claire Scott, 25, both listing their address as 985 Huntington Avenue, Apt. 4, were arrested Thursday night.

Police said Morgan was booked on four counts of sale of marijuana, plus possession of marijuana and possession of marijuanan paraphernalia. His companion was booked for possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana paraphernalia.

Bruno Kegler Leads Tourney

San Bruno's Leon Aragon shot his second straight 900 — a 947 series — to jump two spots into first place in the Warriors' West Coast Match Game Eliminations at Castle Lanes.

The slim kegler moved 607 pins over a 200 average by rapping out games of 232, 232, 205 and a sizzling 278 game with a tap in the tenth ruining a perfect performance in the third stanza.

Aragon overcame a 49 pin deficit and moved a sizzling 110 pins ahead of former leader Bruno Galli, the San Franciscan with a slow approach. Galli rolled up a 205 to start but faded and his 158 final totaled 758 for the night.

Vivian Glaeseman
DALY CITY DATSUN/VOLVO'S Newest Saleslady
Says:

"It's real easy to sell cars when the customers' money can be refunded IF they are unhappy.

Return the car within 48 hours with less than 100 miles on it and all moneys are refunded.

When I can sell a VOLVO that's a well built car or a Swinger like the DATSUN coupe or pickup that sells for $1996, it makes car selling a real pleasure."

Ask Reading Teachers

The Jefferson Council of PTA's Reading Committee has urged the Jefferson Elementary School Board of Trustees to add four more reading teachers and to discuss publicly the committee's recent report.

Latest test results and other matters relating to reading are expected to be aired before trustees in August, according to District Supt. Frank Greenwood.

The test results, he said, are being reviewed — particularly in one area in which "very little progress" was shown," he said, "without explanation."

Some items in the preliminary reading committee report already have been achieved, Greenwood explained, adding there was financial uncertain as to whether or not funding will allow retention of even the present staff.

He also indicated negotiations with teachers would have a bearing on the reading teacher funding.

Mrs. Joan Hemphill, president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association, said following the meeting that the package teachers have presented contains a teacher request for four additional reading teachers.

"Teachers also are concerned about the reading program," Mrs. Hemphill said, explaining adding, "Teachers are indeed negotiating for the benefit of children, not just for teachers."

Memorial Scholarships Presented

Marjorie M. Ketterman Memorial Schoolarship awards were presented by the Foster Parents Association of San Mateo County to Evelyn Ann Williams of San Bruno, Jo Ann Zeno of East Palo Alto and William Lipe of San Carlos. The scholarships are for $100.

Evelyn is a graduate of Crestmoor High School and plans to enter College of San Mateo in the fall where she will pursue a special two-year course toward the necessary credentials to work in a licensed child care day center. Evelyn lives with Mr. and Mrs. Angelo DeLuca, of 69 Scott Street, San Bruno.

JoAnn is a graduate of Ravenswood High School in East Palo Alto and plans to enroll in the nursing program at Chico State in the fall. JoAnn is the foster daughter of Mrs. Audrey Ford, of Camellia avenue, East Palo alto.

Bill is a graduate of San Carlos High School and plans to major in dentistry at Canada College. Bill is the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenhall Taylor, 2721 Victoria Manor Drive, San Carlos.

The Foster Parents Association is a non-profit organization comprised of foster parents within the County whose aim is to work toward improving the quality of foster care and securing other benefits for foster children.

The Scholarship Fund is named in memory of Marjorie M. Ketterman, a rather unique foster mother whose dedication to foster children will long be remembered. Mrs. Ketterman passed away one year ago this month. Scholarship recipients are graduating foster children selected on the basis of financial need, scholastic promise and general good citizenship.

Farewell To Cubmaster

South San Francisco Cub Pack 79 said farewell to Cubmaster John Shaves recently when he was awarded an engraved plaque expressing gratitude from the cubs.

After the flag ceremony was conducted, each den reported monthly activities. Den Two worked earning their Bear Badges together while Webelos made bird houses and drums. Den Five visited the police and fire departments.

Awards were recently given to Rick Piazza, Ed Fowler, Ray Nutting, Pat Griffin, Eric De Graff, Jeff Bohnen, Scott Poli, Mike Hansen, Jeff Marshall, Ricky Mergogy, Ricky Baker, Willy Seekamp and Don Kent.

Cub Scouts receiving emblems for selling Scout-O-Rama tickets included Scott Poli, Kenneth Binning, Mark Shaves, Nick Pikios, David Dalli, Rich Piazza, Ed Fowler, Ricky Baker and Billy Ambler.
